Spreading Flames Tighten Trap Of Death Periling Lives of 43 Miners in Shaft of Argonaut

PICKED RESCUE CREWS RUSH WORK IN 2 SHAFTS TO AID ENTOMBED MEN

Tunnel 700 Feet in Length Being Opened From Kennedy Mine for Path to Victims' Possible Refuge

BIRDS ARE KILLED IN AIR TEST

AT ARGONAUT MINE, Alameda County, Aug. 29.—At noon the first official check of the number of men entombed in the mine was completed by mine officials and the Red Cross. It showed 43 men were caught underground, tallying with previous unofficial figures gathered by the United Press.

Word came to the surface from the crew working in the Kennedy mine at noon that it had been found impracticable to tunnel through to the Argonaut via the old drift at the 3600-foot level and crew had been moved down to the 4400-foot level, where 400 feet of loose earth and 300 feet of solid earth and rock separated the two mines.

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

AT THE ARGONAUT MINE, JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—Rescue workers directed by representatives of the United States Bureau of Mines today launched two main campaigns to save the 43 miners entombed since midnight Sunday in the Argonaut gold mine.

One party fought fire in the main shaft. A second party was sent to the 3600-foot level of the Kennedy mine, adjoining the Argonaut, and began digging feverishly in hopes of opening a passage through to the Argonaut in time to bring out alive the entombed miners.

Picked miners were sent into the Kennedy shaft in the belief that through opening the steel bulkhead on the 3600-foot level and digging away the loose earth which separates it from the Argonaut mine, the main hope of rescue lies. The digging was rushed at double speed. The crews were sending tons of earth to the surface by 9:30 a. m.

Later this plan was found to be impracticable and the crew was moved to the 4400-foot level, where a tunnel of 700 feet will be driven to the Argonaut shaft.

To fight the fire in the main Argonaut shaft several hundred feet of perforated pipe was lowered into the shaft this morning and water pumped through it so as to spray the walls and the tunnels leading off horizontally on the various levels. It was believed that in this manner the fire gradually could be fought back, permitting men to go deeper and deeper down the shaft.

Thus far the fire fighters have made no progress but have considered themselves fortunate in having been able to prevent spread of the fire to higher levels.

AX MEN HALT SPREAD OF FLAMES.

To guard against fire fighters who enter the mine being trapped by fire spreading to levels above them, ax men were sent down to cut away the timbering for several hundred feet above the 2800-foot level.

Miners declared today that enough water has been poured into the mine thus far to flood the 4900-foot level and possibly reach the 4800-foot level, where the entombed men were working when they were trapped.

The imprisoned men, it was pointed out, had one chance to save themselves. This chance was entirely dependent on their physical condition and coolheadedness, miners say, and consisted of the possibility that they had sought refuge in one of the tunnels leading off at a low level of the mine and then unobscured with timber and earth the entrance to the tunnel.

In that manner they might have been able to make a cell for themselves which would be free from gases generated by the fire and contain enough air to keep them alive until help came.

HELMETED RESCUERS REACH 2700-FOOT LEVEL.

Shortly after midnight a party of ten men, led by representatives of the U. S. Bureau of Mines, equipped with oxygen helmets, penetrated to the 2700-foot level, where they reported the fire seemed to be gradually rising. They encountered some of the steam in quantities at the 2500-foot level; were able to establish a temporary base at the 2800-foot level and from there penetrated 100 feet deeper for periods of five minutes at a time.

Canary birds, which they carried with them to detect gases, came up

Tribune Will Flash Election News on Screen

ARRANGEMENTS have been completed by The TRIBUNE for the most complete broadcasting of the election returns ever enjoyed by the voters in the East-bay communities.

In addition to radio The TRIBUNE has made arrangements to flash bulletins on a screen erected in Franklin street, opposite The TRIBUNE building. A loud speaking radio will also be operated from the building. Franklin street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets, will be closed to traffic, in order to accommodate the crowds.

For the first time in the history of the community the radio will be used for the dissemination of election returns and bulletins will be sent out by The TRIBUNE giving the latest news from all sections of the city, county and state.

The polls close at 7 o'clock, and half an hour later the returns will be coming in. Until midnight bulletins will be issued on all contests, and announcement of the returns on the important contests will be made until a definite decision is arrived at by the voters.

Bulletins will also be furnished the residents of Berkeley, Alameda and San Leandro at the branch offices of The TRIBUNE in those cities and radio returns will be forthcoming at all of the stations announced in yesterday's issue of The TRIBUNE.

RESCUERS FIGHT LOSING BATTLE

Men Held in Fire-Close Amador Mine Shaft Are Believed Doomed.

By ROBERT A. DONALDSON, United Press Staff Correspondent.

AT THE ARGONAUT GOLD MINE, JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—Death was winning a desperate battle today for the lives of thirty-three men entombed nearly a mile below the surface.

Dawn lit the pale faces of weary rescue workers who had fought throughout the night.

Huddled on cars used to bring the gold to the surface, a pathetic group of wives and children of the doomed men watched the proceedings which hourly grew more hopeless.

ENTOMBED MEN HAVE SLIGHT CHANCE.

The entombed men, cut off by fire yesterday, had little chance of being rescued. They had managed to a level where the air was a little better, but it was believed impossible that they would be brought out alive.

A loaded skip was monotonously shot down into the depths, plumb-bob for the level on which the men were believed to be crouching.

Each time the skip shot downward, a wave of hope surged through the watching throng. The hope grew less as time after time it came up—empty.

Miners who were not caught by the blast of fire worked in endless shifts. Many of those who were off shift refused to go home to sleep. They remained pressed against the ropes, watching the rescue workers.

RESCUE WORKERS GIVE UP HOPE.

The miners had given up hope—but still they remained. "They will be brought up alive," a grimy-faced man whispered, lowering his voice. "Women folk would not hear."

The women—daughters, wives and sweethearts—stood constantly for some word of assurance. The rescue workers could not give them the comfort they sought.

That the miners were either being burned or suffocated to death was the practically unanimous belief of their co-workers on the surface.

The men are lying beside rich veins of gold. Had the fire started any time but Sunday night more than would have been trapped, miners said.

EARLY VOTE IS HEAVIER THAN USUAL

Record Primary Election in Oakland Is Predicted by County Clerk; 80,000 Ballots May Be Cast

Inside Precincts Indicate Great Interest Shown in the Race of Candidates and On Propositions For City

County Clerk George E. Gross at noon today announced that reports received from nearly every precinct in the county indicate that the morning voting had been very heavy, and that if the rate of polling was kept up a record primary vote could be looked for.

A survey of a few precincts conducted by The TRIBUNE at the noon hour indicated that in the downtown section the voting was exceedingly heavy during the morning, as compared to that of the last election. In a number of the precincts, such as that at Fourteenth and Harrison streets, Eleventh and Webster streets, Tenth and Webster, Thirteenth and Harrison streets and Ninth and Washington streets, a double vote over that of the last election had been cast by noon.

VOTE LIGHTER AT OTHER PRECINCTS.

A little further out, however, at such precincts as Nineteenth and Harrison streets, Nineteenth and Franklin, Twelfth and Market, and Twelfth and Jackson streets the vote was considerably lighter. This rule applied to a few scattering precincts from residential districts, where as a usual rule the heavy voting does not occur until the afternoon.

Alameda reported a light vote at the majority of the precincts, as did Berkeley. Other centers throughout the county reported the vote as being equal to that of the last election.

There are 155,000 registered voters in the county, which is a gain of 10,000 over that of two years ago. The vote at 80,000, according to an announcement made today, The betting meantime has changed from 4 and 5 to 1 in favor of McNary to 2 to 1 that he will win by 150,000.

SPRINTED CONTEST FOR GOVERNOR.

Another spirited fight is that of Governor William D. Stephens and Friend Richardson. Governor Stephens claimed the nomination today by a majority of at least 300,000, according to an announcement made today. The betting meantime has changed from 4 and 5 to 1 in favor of McNary to 2 to 1 that he will win by 150,000.

MAJORITY OF COUNTY INCUMBENTS TO WIN.

It has been generally conceded by the political wags that the incumbents in county offices who are facing the voters at the polls today will all be returned to office with the possible exception of one.

This fight is between Fred Foss and Wells Drury for the county treasurer'ship.

Reports from centering points throughout the State indicate that the voting situation in Alameda county is being duplicated in all other sections. The registration has been uniformly heavy and the sentiment attendant on the campaigns of the national and State contestants has resulted in a heavy poll.

According to Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, the total registration in California is 1,452,293.

She is operated by the North Atlantic and Western Steamship line.

MRS. PHILIP BOILEAU, widow of the late noted French portrait painter, who is up in arms against the long skirts that women are wearing. Mrs. Boileau, who is better known in this country as Miss Emily Gilbert, has decided ideas about what is becoming to American girls. Long skirts steal youth, she says, although she admits that they add grace and charm to the wearer. Miss Gilbert has been called for years the most beautiful American woman. TRACKMEN LOSE FIRST WAGE CLASH

Rail Labor Board Refuses to Accept "Living Wage" at Basis of New Pay Scale; Sessions Are Adjourned

Brotherhood Chiefs Convene to Review Peace Parleys With Road Heads and to Draw Policies For Future

Presidential authority to take over railroads and coal mines will be proposed in the house tomorrow by Representative Johnson, Republican, South Dakota, as an amendment to the administration coal control bill.

ROODHOUSE, Ill., Aug. 29 (By the Associated Press).—After promising trackmen who had quit work last Friday that he would "give them everything but the railroad," Vice-President A. P. Titus of the Chicago and Alton Railroad company today saw the first train in sixty hours leave Roodhouse, bearing two passengers to St. Louis. The strike ended last night.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (By the Associated Press).—E. F. Grabie, president of the railroad maintenance of way employees, today announced that he was telegraphing President Harding and Senator Cummins, one of the authors of the present transportation act, asking them to present to Congress an amendment to the act which would make it mandatory on the railroad labor board to annul the principle of the living wage.

By CHARLES R. LYNCH, United Press Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Maintenance of way men lost the first skirmish in their fight for increased wages, when the railroad labor board today denied the "living wage" as a basis for fixing a new scale.

"The board will not go beyond the transportation act," the board declared. "If we find that the 'living wage' is a just and reasonable wage, as prescribed by law, we will adopt it."

"It would be superfluous to announce in advance the theory on which wages would be fixed. We will give every concern to the arguments of the maintenance men but we must comply with the law."

Upon the request of President E. F. Grabie of the maintenance men the board recessed until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. Grabie announced he wanted to consider the board's decision on the "living wage" carefully before proceeding with the hearing.

BROTHERHOOD CHIEFS IN SESSION IN CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press).—One of the subjects to be considered by heads of the "big five" brotherhoods of railway employees, which met here today, will be the proceedings of the recent conference in New York with representatives of the railroads in their efforts to bring about a settlement of the shopmen's strike.

A complete review of these proceedings will be brought before the conference and a report upon it will be sent to the members of the several brotherhoods.

By JOHN L. SPIVAK, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—The striking shopmen will see the railway executives "in hell first" before they will surrender their seniority rights, is the message sent out today by B. M. Jewell, head of the strikers, to the rank and file of his organization.

ENGINES 60 PER CENT DEFECTIVE, REPORT SHOWS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Reports to the Interstate Commerce Commission indicated that 60 per cent of the nation's locomotives have been rendered defective as a result of the shopmen's strike.

This was revealed in a special report to the Senate today by the interstate commerce commission on deterioration of rail equipment.

Of the 4085 locomotives inspected at 717 different points, 2456 were found defective, and the commission expressed the opinion this ratio would apply to all the 70,000 locomotives in the country.

JOLIET, Ill., Aug. 29.—The strike of trainmen of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad, which has tied up the "outer belt" line, serving Chicago, for more than three weeks, was settled today. Settlement was reached when officials agreed to move troops on duty here further from the shops. The strike was called when troops arrived here following a riot in which two men were killed.

WIFE SHOTS AT HUSBAND; FREED TO HELP FAMILY

S. F. Man Chased for Several Blocks Through Streets After Quarrel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Enraged at her husband's threats to desert her and her three small children, during a domestic quarrel in their home at 443 Rich street, Mrs. Carmel Lartori, aged 25 years, seized a revolver and fired three shots at her husband as he fled the house.

The husband, Leo Lartori, a mechanic, ran into the street shouting for help, the wife following, flourishing the weapon. She chased him as far as Fourth and Shipley streets, a distance of several blocks, before she encountered Police Detectives Oliver Cox and William Hylan, who disarmed her and placed her under arrest on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The husband was not hit. At the city prison the young mother wept, declaring it was her husband's fault and begged the police to make some arrangement whereby her three small children could be taken to their mother's home. She should be confined for any length of time in jail.

Touched by the woman's pitiful plea, Police Lieutenant James Boland, prison keeper, communicated the facts to Police Judge Daniel S. O'Brien. In view of the extenuating circumstances, Judge O'Brien ordered the woman released on her own recognizance in order that she might be with her babies.

Emeryville Woman Sues For Divorce

Citing a long list of alleged cruelties committed by Joseph Oscar Mayes, Mrs. Maud Mayes filed suit for divorce in the Superior court today.

The Mayes, who were married in Oakland, October 5, 1911, have three minor children whose custody the plaintiff seeks. She also asks the court to award her community property consisting of two Emeryville residences, household furniture and a piano and phonograph. The plaintiff alleges that her husband once threw her out the front door and that on another occasion when he found her telephoning to a friend, he rushed into the room, overturned the dining room table, and threatened to again throw her out. At different times he threatened her with such phrases as "I will smash your nose all over your face," and "If the kids were bigger I would put you under six feet of earth," she claims. She asks $150 a month for the support of the three children.

Hay a lead of 313 votes over Governor Robert Carey for the Republican gubernatorial nomination as the result of last week's primary. Only 30 precincts are missing from this latest count, and in half of these, Republican leaders explained, no elections were held on account of the press of harvest activity and other causes. The count in all but 30 precincts gives: Hay, 15,702; Carey, 15,390.

MARRIED IN CHICAGO.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—The marriage of John Harriman, 19 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, to Miss Alice A. Laidley, 19, daughter of Mrs. William H. Laidley of Chicago, at Port Chester, N. Y., on August 12, was made public today.

SONG TO FEATURE WELCOME WEEK

Community singing in the theaters will be the method used to bring Welcome to Oakland week to the attention of the audiences in Alameda county. Under arrangements with the theater managers a specially written song will be sung from the stages of the theaters by special singers, and then the audiences will be invited to join in the song. The words will be flashed upon the screens at all the picture houses.

Neil Moret, a composer whose hits include "Mickey" and other nationally famous songs, will compose the music.

At the musical comedy houses the managers have agreed to stage special chorus numbers making use of the song.

In that way the theater people believe the message of the week will be presented to their audiences in a distinctly new manner. For a time it was planned to make use of four minute speakers, but it was decided that this method lacked the appeal and the effectiveness of the song.

One of the preliminary features of the week will be a smoker at the Hotel Oakland on the night of September 5. Blanks Everett of the Chamber of Commerce has this event in hand, and announces that there will be an amusement surprise, the nature of which is being kept secret at present.

Wife Neglected Children, Charge

That she neglected their five children to such an extent that they were sent home from school because of untidiness and that their grandparents at length took the children under their care, were some of the charges that Vergil S. Oliver brought against Vernice M. Oliver in a divorce action filed in the Superior court today.

The plaintiff further declares that he was forced to get his own meals and at different periods, during their married life his wife has deserted him and their five children ranging from the ages of 2 to 8 years, for several weeks at a time. The couple were married in San Francisco, January 18, 1913 and separated, according to the complaint, August 13 last. The plaintiff asks the custody of the children and the community property consisting of the family home at 1233 Ashby avenue, Berkeley, and household furniture.

The song thrush does his best singing before the sun is hot.

Where Do They Sleep? This Isn't Scandal, But--

The city attorney's office today began a quick but thorough investigation to find where the heads of several prominent Piedmont families sleep at night. This is not a society scandal, but an election matter. It concerns residents on the new "Lake Shore Park" tract, where the Piedmont-Oakland line passes through diagonally. About six residences are bisected by the inter-city line and the residents thereof are much perturbed as to where they shall vote. They have asked the city attorney's ruling.

"A person votes in the district where he sleeps," rules Gray. "This has been decided in several cases, notably a recent one in Sutter county."

But a survey, in some cases, may be necessary in order to ascertain where the residents sleep. One citizen has two lots facing Annerley street, Piedmont. His postoffice address is Piedmont.

The rear of his lots is assessed in Oakland. The line passes through his house. If he sleeps in the southeast corner he is in Oakland. If he sleeps on the west side, he is in Piedmont. The other corners are in doubt. Gray kept busy today looking into assessment maps and asking the various residents just where they sleep, and in what position. At a late hour today one resident was found to sleep with his head in Oakland and his feet in Piedmont. This matter, it is believed, may be straightened out by some sort of compromise.

BLEASE IS OPPOSED.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 29.—South Carolina Democrats voted today in a state-wide primary to determine whether Cole L. Charlotte Greenwood Delights With Unique Art in Her Best Role.

Such things as happen in the department store of Colby & Co. Such goings on! Hop-heads with high flingers. Sweet little tot whose innocent prattling reveals plots and such. Heroic counterplot to save innocent tot from further criminalities. Beetle-browed store manager with eye to business romance and cash drawer. Handsome young heir to the fortune of Colby dancing through the departments, hopping over the counters, singing merrily and everything. Long, lank, lanky Letty—

Such goings on as do go on in "Letty Pepper!" Last night, at the Orpheum, Charlotte Greenwood ran Colby & Co.'s department store on strictly modern lines. She showed up the manager and outwitted the dope-fiend, adopted the prattling child and lifted the Colby establishment out of the rut, arrayed herself in Poirot models and married the heir. A splendid evening's work!

SPONTANEOUS COMEDY. Miss Greenwood is judged too much by her nonchalance in posing. Her fame has been wrong-ly fixed on her ability to swing odd-sized pairs of arms and legs in angles and curves that would baffle a connoisseur. There is more behind her artistic punch than that. She is a spontaneous comedienne, mistress of the art of polite clowning, quick on the trigger of opportunity, natural.

They say it took Charlotte Greenwood six years to learn that she was funny and quite a while in addition to overcome her natural sensitiveness against appearing in a ridiculous light before the public. When finally persuaded that by capitalizing her natural talents and angular form she could achieve fame as a comedienne, she went at it with a zest that has made her one of the most popular actresses on the stage today.

"Letty Pepper" proves to be one of the best plays she has had. The comedy is based on Charles Klein's famous play "Maggie Pepper," in which Rose Stahl appeared many seasons ago and which offers Miss Greenwood the finest fun-making opportunities she has ever enjoyed. Oliver Morosco and George V. Hobart are responsible for the book of "Letty Pepper" and with such a fine comedy as "Maggie Pepper" as a foundation, they have written a book that can only be described as a continuous streak of laughs, speed, spice and pep.

A HAPPY ENDING, TOO. The lease "Letty" that Miss Greenwood first made famous in "So Long Letty" has been transplanted into a department store, where she is the target for envious superiors. A chance meeting with the owner of the establishment gives Letty an opportunity to air her views about the manner in which the store should be conducted. And then, after Miss Greenwood has "kangarooed" about the stage in her own inimitable manner, and after the chorus has displayed a fashion of gowns, cloaks, hats and lingerie "direct from Paris," and a score of songs have been sung which call for repeated encores, "Letty Pepper" ends in the conventional happy fashion of all musical comedies.

Master Gabriel, the diminutive comedian is one of Miss Greenwood's supporters and has a charming scene with Frances Victory in the second act. Others in the cast who scored are Ray Raymond, Ruth Rickaby, Marie Holly, Stewart Wilson, Mann Hollner and Wilfred Young.

KIWANI'S 'FINES' NET $20 TOWARD BOY SCOUT FUND

Harry Pulcifer Dispenses Justice; Everybody Pays Forfeit

Court was in solemn session at the luncheon of the Kiwanis Club at the Hotel Oakland yesterday and Judge Harry Pulcifer was on the bench. To show that he would not tolerate any infraction of court rules, Judge Pulcifer fined all those who were smoking 25 cents each. Then to prove that he was an impartial judge he fined the others the same amount for not smoking. With the six members later fined 75 cents each after their conviction of violating Kiwanis rules, about $20 was collected for the Boy Scouts.

Considerable fun was occasioned by the mock trials and the ball-fight forgot to maintain order when the spectators gave vent to laughter as the defendants were first fined by Prosecutor Ollie Shogren, defended by Ernest McCandish and then found guilty of violating a section of the Kiwanis code.

The first defendant was George C. Pardee, former governor of Darling was acquitted of selling bones without a prescription, the judge displaying gross bias in his decision but he violated all rules of jurisprudence by levying a fine anyway. The other defendants were H. James Poswa and George H. Ferguson.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST OPEN ANNUAL MEET

Christian Church Holding International Conclave in Indiana.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., August 29.—Representatives of more than 1,500,000 members of the Disciples of Christ (Christian Church) will appraise the work of the denomination at the annual international convention here today and continuing through Sunday, September 3.

"Around the World" is the theme of the convention program which will open Tuesday afternoon with the reading of reports of the various church enterprises. Directing cards of the church's organizations will meet Monday afternoon and Tuesday forenoon preceding the convention opening.

Stephen B. Fisher, of Urbana, Ill., will deliver the opening convention address. Dr. Fisher is president of the convention. The convention sermon will be preached Sunday morning by Dr. Vernon Stauffer, professor in the divinity department of Transylvania College, Lexington, Ky.

Acute problems of denominational faith and policy will come up for settlement during the convention, leaders here predict. One question will be the removal of the College of Missions from Indianapolis to some great university center. Invitations have been extended to locate at the University of Chicago, Yale and Columbia Universities. The removal is advocated by the college officials in the interest of more adequate training for missionaries.

Conservative and progressive forces within the denomination will come into conflict during the convention. It is also believed. The ultra-conservative movement which has become active in several Protestant denominations, and whose members call themselves "fundamentalists" has many adherents among the Disciples of Christ.

BANGKOK, Siam, Aug. 29.—This marriage of King Mahajiravudh, King of Siam, to his cousin, Princess Lakshmi Lavan, was proclaimed Sunday.

Chicago Tourists To Swedish Fair To Charter Liner

GOTENBERG, Sweden, August 10.—So many Americans, many of Swedish birth or parentage, are planning to visit the Jubilee Exposition of Gothenburg, Sweden, next year that a full-sized ocean liner will be needed to carry the travelers from Chicago alone. These will include such representative citizens as the ex-Governor of Minnesota, Adolf Eberhart; Harry Olson, Chief Judge of the Municipal Court of Chicago, and United States Senator Medill McCormick.

This announcement is made by Charles S. Peterson, a business man of Chicago who has come to Sweden to make special arrangements for this invasion of Americans. In connection with this news Jan. Brostrom, ex-Minister of the Navy and a well-known shipping man in Sweden, has announced that the Swedish-American Line, of which he is president, will find it necessary to purchase a third liner to be placed in the direct service between the United States and Sweden.

The Exposition at Gothenburg celebrated the 500th anniversary of the founding of that city under the famous King Gustavus Adolphus. It will illustrate Swedish history, industry, and culture, a special section being allotted to an exhibit from the former colony in America, now the State of Delaware, which was settled by expeditions from Gothenburg in 1638.

TRADE BARRIERS BY NEW STATES ARE DENOUNCED

VIENNA, Aug. 29.—A sensational incident occurred at yesterday's session of the inter-parliamentary conference here when M. Treub of Holland read a paper on international free trade, being denounced what he termed the chauvinistic trade barriers erected by the newly formed European states and presented a resolution for the summoning of a world conference to abolish tariffs. The spokesman of the League of Nations, P. P. Tery, in an outburst of indignation threatened the withdrawal of the British delegation.

Then M. Buisson of the French delegation brought up the reparations question, declaring that the talk of a new international currency was "all babbles."

The presence of seventy-nine Italian and sixty-three Hungarian delegates caused much comment, as they far outnumbered the representatives of the other countries.

HOT SPRINGS, ARKANSAS, August 29.—The mid-winter meeting of the executive committee, American Bar association, will be held here early in January, according to information received by the local bar from the annual meeting which recently closed in San Francisco.

VILLAGE SECOND CLEARING PORT OF WORLD, CLAIM

CHICAGO, August 29.—Christfield, Md., a small village of Chesapeake Bay with 4,000 souls, many of the sea, claims to be the second largest port of the world in the number of boats of all sizes entering and clearing it, according to a report of the Seaman's Church Institute of America which will be presented at the general convention of the Episcopal Church at Portland, Oregon in September.

The Seaman's Church Institute will ask the general convention for support in establishing one of its branches at Christfield, Md., a clearing place for sailors of the seven seas.

The small village depends for existence on the thousands of oyster boats which gather the bivalves from the neighboring beds of the bay and carry them to the village where they are transferred to ships clearing for all parts of the globe. The institute maintains seven main establishments, one each in New York, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Newport, Port Arthur, Tex., and New Orleans. Branches are maintained in Norfolk, Va., Tampa and Manila, P. I. There are sailors may get their mail, have a bath, read a book, see a movie, get medical treatment, sleep in a decent bed, obtain a renewal of passports, attend church if they want to and have their letters written.

Colony Planned For Unemployed

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 28.—Establishment of an unemployed workers' colony in northern Queensland, suggested by the Unemployed Workers' committee, is to be placed before the premier, following its approval by a mass meeting of the unemployed.

The objects of the project are to relieve distress and to demonstrate "that the working class is capable of managing and controlling industry," according to an announcement. It is suggested the colony obtain from the government free grants of land, and a cash subsidy equal to the amount raised by the colony, co-operating in clearing, preparing and cultivating land, produce foodstuffs and maintain suitable quarters, libraries and recreation rooms. Compulsory labor will be the first rule of the colony and a committee to be chosen will detail any member to any occupation. The initial funds are to be raised by making a voluntary levy of one shilling weekly on workers.

Brookdale Gardens Will Be Improved

Definite information that improvement of Brookdale Gardens will begin this year was received by George P. Keyes, president of the Leona Heights Improvement Club, today from Edgar M. Sanborn, president of the board of park directors.

"On account of our funds being cut considerably below our allowances of last year, the board made a ruling that there would be no improvement this year, but we have decided, in this instance, to make an exception and will start work some time between now and the first of the year," says Sanborn.

KANAKA RACE'S ORIGIN SOUGHT

HONOLULU, T. H., August 29.—The possibility that the Polynesians who first inhabited Hawaii came here directly from the island of Guam, the northernmost of Micronesia instead of by the way of Samoa, Tonga and Tahiti to the south as generally believed, has arisen through investigations by scientists attached to the Bishop Museum here, which is attempting in conjunction with Yale University to solve the mystery of the origin of the Hawaiian race.

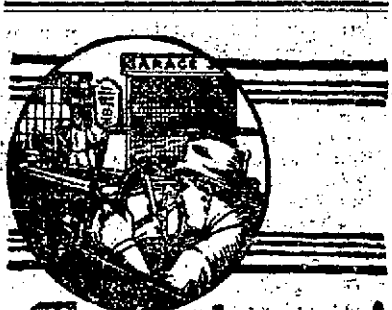

The Polynesian culture is extinct on Guam now and this is the basis for the belief that the Polynesian settlement on that island was prior to the migration to Hawaii. Evidence of the primitive Polynesian civilization were found in the similarity of war implements unearthed in Guam to those used subsequently by the Polynesians here. Skulls found in Guam also bear a marked resemblance to those of Hawaiians being rough and unusually rugged, the scientists reported.

By further excavations in Guam the Bishop authorities hope to learn what racial stocks preceded or came after the Polynesian migration to that island. The discoveries there have revealed traces of primitive civilizations other than Polynesian culture and it is believed that these other racial stocks submerged the Polynesian. Scientists said that a migration from Japan might have forced out the Polynesian strain, as they believe that Asia was the source of the Polynesian race and that

Guam, at successive periods in the world's history, was the objective point of at least two and perhaps three or more migrations.

BETTER BUSINESS OUTLOOK IS SEEN IN SCANDINAVIA

Norwegian Exchange Stronger, Danish Trade Increases —Less Idleness.

A cable to the Department of Commerce from Assistant Trade that the general improvement in Scandinavian conditions has become pronounced during the past month.
Norwegian grain and an improved employment and increased activity in shipping circles are additional signs of an improved tone in industry and commerce.

Building activity is increasing, and crop conditions generally are promising an average yield although the prospects for a wet harvest are threatening.

The official discount rate of Norwegian Bank has been reduced from 8 1/2 to 5 per cent, effective from August 16.

DECREASED REVENUE
The estimated yield of direct taxes for the current fiscal year has been reduced from 220,000,000 to 198,000,000 crowns. The stamp duty estimate is reduced by 1,000,000 crowns and the inheritance tax by 1,000,000 crowns.

The income from customs dues for July amounted to 10,700,000 crowns in comparison with 4,469-000 crowns for June and 4,400,000 crowns for May.

The not circulation of Norges
Bank on August 8, amounted to 273-500,000 crowns as compared with 255,000,000 on July 8. The gold reserve at the end of June amounted to 147,292,000 crowns.

Capital emissions for the first six months of the current year amounted to 51,000,000 crowns as compared with 14,000,000 crowns for the same period of 1921.

The registered unemployment of 43,600 at the end of April of this year.

IN DENMARK state enterprises continue to show a profit from operation and the budget situation for the current year becomes more promising. The banking situation is still uneasy. Shares of the Landmandsbank are now quoted at $2, having dropped from 111 on July 15, and 95 on July 19. A change of personnel is expected in the directorates of the Landmandsbank and the National Bank.

The crop yield promises to be slightly under the average, while the freight market is reported to be slightly improved owing to ing activity is increasing.

The not circulation of the National Bank on August 12, amounted to 404,000,000 crowns as compared with 340,000,000 on July 10, and 360,000 on May 1922. There is no labor unrest in evidence at the present time and industrial activity is increasing.

Trade relations of Sweden with Russia are reported to be strained as a result of Sweden's refusal to enter into a commercial treaty with the Soviet Government. Recent rumors seem to indicate that Sweden will follow Denmark in providing tariff protection for certain industries, especially for the machinery industry. Labor difficulties are again in evidence after several months of comparative quiet. State owned enterprises continue to make a good showing after operating at a deficit during the previous year.

On August 1 the Swedish national debt amounted to 1,532,300,000 crowns of which the amount of 1,450,000,000 crowns is on a funded basis.

The not circulation of the Swedish Riksbank on August 5, amounted to 520,200,000 crowns as compared with a note circulation of 594,183-000 crowns on July 1, on which the gold reserve amounted to 273-995,000 crowns.

The Riksbank clearings for July totalled 1,897,000,000 crowns. June clearings numbered 350.

Strikes among the private-owned railway workers and telephone operators are reacting adversely to the workers interests. The railway strike while confined to the private roads as yet threatening to spread to the State owned roads.

Registered unemployment on July 1, amounted to 43,300 showing a great decrease during June when compared with 84,000 unemployed on June 1.

MILLS COLLEGE FACULTY AGAIN AUGMENTED

The faculty at Mills College has been augmented by some twenty-five new appointments for the 1922-23 semester, according to an announcement by the trustees while sabbatical leave has been granted to several members for European study and research. The new appointments include:

Botany, Glenn E. Paxton, instructor.

Classics, Ella Bourne, assistant professor.

Economics and Sociology, Flora Preston Pearing.

Education, Frederick J. Adams, assistant.

French, Jennie S. Gentry, M. A., instructor.

History, W. D. Hancock, assistant professor of European history.

Home Economics, Bertha S. Davis, instructor in nutrition and manager of Tea Shoppe.

Music, Luther Marchant, instructor in voice; Connell Keefer, assistant.

Physical Education, Ruth Beckley, instructor; Irene Williamson, instructor; Genevieve Anderson, instructor.

Physics, Evelyn Aylesworth, instructor.

Public Health, Francis A. Richard, assistant professor.

Spanish, Matilde Elites, teaching fellow.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Officers of Administration—Esther A. Galt, associate dean and director of the Bureau of Occupations; Lucile Williams, college physician; Cardinal Goodwin, dean of the Graduate School.

Additions in the library include: Mary Carpenter, assistant librarian; Gladys English, library assistant.

Loan department, Flora S. Ludington; Reference librarian, Dorothy Stein, order department.

Under campus announcements attention is called to the fact that the administrative offices have been moved from their old location to the buildings to the left of the Margaret Carnegie Library.

The Bureau of Occupations has been rearranged in the new personnel office under the direction of Dr. Esther Galt, its associate dean.

Dr. Galt takes up the duties of vocational adviser to all students. She will also have charge of the mental tests given to all freshmen and will assist in vocational conferences and have charge of the placement of students after graduation.

CHANGES IN HOUSING.

The third announcement calls attention to changes in the housing of the different science departments; the Department of Chemistry being assigned to new quarters built between the Campanile and the Music Studio.

The College Shoppe, the Post Office and the Tea Room occupy the new bungalow built near the gymnasium.

The last announcement gives a brief outline of the rearrangement of the Margaret Carnegie Library, in which much needed space has been gained by removing from the lower floor the administrative offices of the college. It is the belief of the librarian, Mrs. Elizabeth Gray Potter, that the more independent the student becomes in her use of the library, the greater will be her enjoyment of it and the better will she be able to accomplish her college work.

A. building, 1515 Webster street, tomorrow evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. The public is invited to see the exhibit and make any inquiries regarding the classes in dressmaking.

What's Happening in the Motor World

One of the new Peerless eight models, a phaeton, was placed on display yesterday in the showroom of the Pioneer Motor Company, 2500 Broadway. Throughout the day and evening a steady string of visitors thronged the place anxious to see this motor creation. In order to give everybody a chance to see the recent arrival the management will keep the establishment open day and evening for a week.

In viewing the creation, one is impressed with the body lines which are harmonious in a very artistic degree and are very beautiful. The Peerless for the coming year is longer and lower, has smaller wheels and larger tires than its predecessor, while the radiator and hood present an entirely new and pleasing aspect.

The degree of riding smoothness is said to be very pronounced by reason of the increased wheelbase—123 inches—and the extra long semi-elliptic springs. Riding comfort may be more easily appreciated when it is known that the front springs are forty-one inches long and the rear springs sixty inches long.

The chassis is clean, simple and easy to understand, thus conveying to the experienced motorist a story of power, speed and steadiness. Carefully worked out improvements in the Peerless eight cylinder engine enhance its power and speed. It is said, while as a whole the power plant seems cleaner. All parts are easy to get at. The starting, lighting and ignition system is Delco and the battery is Exide. Both axles are Timken.

"Beauty, balance and proportion are built into every line."

"The new Peerless is the product of long and intimate acquaintance with the motorist's preferences and prejudices of the American people."

BANDIT SLAIN IN GUN BATTLE

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 28.—A man, identified as one of two alleged bandits who, at noon yesterday, held up and robbed D. W. Spencer, an oil company collector, was killed last night at the Santa Fe station here by Policemen E. E. Richard, who was badly wounded in the arm by the man. On the dead man were found papers made out to C. J. Dilley, machine's mate, second class, of the naval air station, North Island.

Ball Team Loses

Well Matched Contest

RICHMOND, Aug. 28.—The First National Bank baseball team of Richmond lost a close game Sunday to Pittsburg at Oakley by the score of 2 to 1. Greene and Wright engaged in a pitchers' battle, with the advantage slightly in favor of the Pittsburg pitcher, who allowed the visitors only three hits, while Wright was touched up for seven hits.

Next Sunday the bankers meet Concord at Concord. The Three C league schedule closes Sunday, September 10.

Oakland Man Faces

Intoxication Charge

RICHMOND, Aug. 28.—Homer Carrington, 2602 Adeline street, Oakland, charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated, is held here in lieu of $2000 bail fixed by Justice of the Peace John Roth at his arraignment yesterday. Carrington was arrested Sunday night at San Pablo. He will be taken to Martinez pending his preliminary examination.

BURNED TO DEATH.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Aug. 28.—Howard D. Hanson of Ogden, a brakeman, was burned to death. Conductor Thomas Burke of Provo was badly injured, and Fireman Honeycup of Provo slightly hurt in a collision yesterday in a tunnel on the Utah Railway Company line at Spring canyon, near Helper, Utah.

TOBACCO USERS PAY TAX.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Tobacco users paid almost nine per cent of the $2,197,000,000 in internal revenue received by the government in the fiscal year of 1922. Income and profits taxes accounted for 65 per cent.

ICE PLANT BURNS.

SONORA, Calif., Aug. 28.—The plant of the Sonora Ice and Cold Storage Company here was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin yesterday. The damage was estimated by the owners at $50,000 to $75,000.

Woman Disappears After Husband Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Sailors from the Philadelphia navy yard last night dragged the body of Mrs. Barbara Taylor, 12 years old, passing out at the gates. Officers feared that the mental and physical strain incident to her husband's long illness, and despondency over his death might have led her to take her life. There are two daughters, Barbara, a student at Bryn Mawr college, and Emily, who disappeared Sunday following the death of her husband, Com. James Spottelwood Taylor, chief medical officer at the yard. Dr. Taylor died at the navy yard hospital after seven months of illness. Mrs. Taylor did not leave the yard after his death. Sentries are compelled to make records of all

MAN FLIES 300 MILES TO ANSWER CHARGE IN COURT

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28.—After making an airplane flight of nearly 300 miles to appear in court and answer a grand larceny charge, Hjelmer How today was out on $500 bail, pending trial September 12.

A hearing of the case was set for yesterday. How was in East Grand Forks, Minn., at the other end of the state, and missed his train, he told Judge H. D. Dickinson in district court, and he hired an airplane at the cost of $600. Because of the expense entailed by How in coming to Minneapolis, Judge Dickinson set bond for his release at only $500, much less than the usual amount.

KANSAS COURT OF INDUSTRY TO FACE NEW TEST

Great Parties Will Divide On It As State Issue At November Polls.

TOPEKA, Aug. 29. — Having safely—in fact, with flying colors—weathered the storm which threatened it in the primary election August 1, the Kansas Court of Industrial Relations now faces a new test. Indications are strong that it will be the main issue in the general election, November 7, with the Republican party backing it unreservedly, and arrayed against it, the Democrats. The parties will draft their state platforms at the biennial party councils in Topeka, tomorrow, these conventions, composed of party nominees and hold-over state and congressional officials, being held in keeping with the state primary law.

W. J. McGowan, editor of the Hutchinson News, who won the Republican nomination for governor in the primary election, is a strong advocate of the court. He had the backing of Governor F. T. Allen, "father" of the industrial court act. The main fight in the primary campaign against the industrial court act was made by labor unions, through their state organization, and several anti-union leagues, which selected Fred W. Knapp, of Salina, as their candidate for the Republican nomination. Returns show Knapp run a poor fifth in a field of seven candidates, and he lost the county—Salina, in which he resided. Incidentally, the sixth and seventh honors in the race went to the two women candidates—Miss Helen Pettigrew, on a light wine and beer platform, and Mrs. W. D. Mowry, advocate of "more office work and less oratory." Neither of the women carried a single precinct of the 2536 in the state.

All three Democratic candidates for governor in the primary ticket advocated repeal of the industrial court act. Jonathan M. Davis, the successful candidate, is expected to carry the same pledge into the current campaign. Having failed to elect their choice for the Republican nomination in the primary, union labor leaders now declare they will switch their forces to the Democratic side of the fray because of that party's opposition to the industrial court. Candidate Davis is a farmer and will make a strong appeal for the farmer. At the same time he will advocate the labor union's cause for the abolition of the industrial court. The returns of the primary election show quite conclusively that neither the labor nor the anti-industrial court standard, and that primary campaign efforts to amalgamate farmers and labor forces were pretty much in vain.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE HAPPY DINNER PARTY

"Well, we must go, Mary. We surely had a wonderful time at your little dinner party. We've been staying too long now, and it's getting late. It is so hard to tear oneself away, though, after one of your lovely dinners, and your nice cozy home."

"Well, you are mighty glad that you came. It's been a pleasant evening for us, too. I like to have company occasionally and fuss over a special dinner once in a while. I think it's lots of fun."

"Oh, do you Mary? I wish I could be that way. I get so excited when I am going to have company for dinner that I wear myself out thinking about it before the company comes. How do you take it so calm and happy?"

"Remember, little one, that we have been married five years and you have only been married one year. You are getting along beautifully. I think, and it all comes with time."

"Oh, I do want to serve lovely dinners like you do with no more effort. But we are going to have all ready and is out in front smoking with Dick. Let me tell you again what a wonderful time we had."

"And again I say how glad I am, but you must remember that you are happy about your pretty new dress, too. That makes my event more happy to know that you have on something new and becoming."

"That's true. I am so glad I went to Cherry's and selected my dress from out of their vast assortment of fall dresses. That's the thing—I have six months to pay."

Cherry's store for women is at 515 13th street; the store for men at 528 13th street.—Advertisement.

LAST PLEA MADE TO SAVE SEQUOIAS FOR PUBLIC PARK

Necessity of Recreation Grounds Set Forth in Urging Bond Issue.

This is the day the citizens of Oakland decide whether or not they want to own 1500 acres of wonderful wooded hills as a perpetual camping ground and recreation park within the city limits.

The $325,000 Sequoia Mountain Park bond issue will be determined at the polls today.

The proposition appears as the last item on the special municipal election ballot and reads as follows:

"Proposition to Incur Bonded Indebtedness"
"The proposition to incur a bonded indebtedness in the sum of $325,000, with interest thereon at a rate not to exceed 4 1/2 per cent per annum, for the acquisition, construction and completion by the City of Oakland of certain lands and improvements to provide a public park to be known as the 'Oakland Sequoia Mountain Park,' as set forth in Ordinance No. 2403, N. S. of the City of Oakland."

PEOPLE'S COUNTRY CLUB.
To those who will vote late this afternoon, this summary of the "Save Oakland's Sequoias" campaign is addressed.

It will be the people's country club in which the poorest will have an equal share. Camp grounds, large enough to accommodate tens of thousands of our citizens at one time without crowding will be set apart. It is proposed to place the care of these camping places under the supervision of the recreation

BURIAL SERVICE AT SEA SENT BY WIRELESS

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 29.—There have been many stories of the strange uses to which wireless communication has been put on the high seas, but the Cunard liner Carmania brought in a new one on her arrival here from New York.

While off the Irish coast the liner's operator picked up the message asking that the ritual for burial at sea be sent in full. The strange request came from the Canadian government steamer Canadian Trooper, whose captain found he had no prayer book when confronted with the necessity of burying one of the firemen at sea. The Carmania supplied his need.

Laborer Tried For Murder Is Freed

Angelo Basili, charged with murder of the first degree, was found not guilty yesterday by a jury after a deliberation of ten minutes. The verdict was rendered after a plea of self defense had been advanced by Basili's attorneys, Wilbur Pierce and Richard M. Lyman Jr.

The charge grew out of a quarrel between Basili and Nick Kutras, who were both employed as section hands on the Southern Pacific railway. Kutras attacked Basili with a hammer and Basili struck Kutras with a track gauge in self defense, according to the evidence. Kutras died of his wounds.

department, whose experienced staff will be kept busy planning and conducting "good times" for young and older folk. Those who are no longer children are just as much in need of play in the open as any camping, picnicking, dancing on pavilions to be erected, outdoor plays and pageants in the natural amphitheatres will be among the privileges which they will enjoy.

"A large swimming pool is planned in Diamond Canyon where a dam may be constructed at small cost. Bus lines and street car tracks will be extended through the park so as to make it accessible to all."

DELIGHT FOR MOTORISTS.
The motorist will not need to travel a hundred miles to find a place to spend the day. In less than half an hour's auto ride one may find a series of motor-parks with all facilities installed and free. The $50,000 included in the bond issue for improvements will develop wonderful pleasure features for the people free for all.

"And the price, set by the appraisal committee at a little more than $300 an acre for the 1547 acre park site is only one-fifth to one-tenth of the average value of similar adjoining acreage which has been recently sold along Joaquin Miller road which skirts the tract. From two-bits to four-bits a year is all that the payments on the bonds will cost the average taxpayer. Many perfect days in the park each year will be worth as much per hour or minute in 100 per cent pleasure. This is the last chance to have such a recreation park. Otherwise it will be subdivided and lost forever."

Inventor of Roofless Plate

The advantages of roofless plates are improved speech and taste; cool to the mouth, has several suction instead of one. It makes no difference if you have any teeth of your own or not.

Children CoastUnder Moving Auto

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Two children who coasted under an automobile driven by Charles M. Fleisher, 2033 Bancroft way, had thrills from their daring ride which were not received in quite the way they intended.

Fleisher declared that the children coasted under his car at San Mateo road and Indian Rock avenue as he was backing from the curb. When he recovered from his surprise he tried to learn the names of the children and to ascertain whether they were hurt. Finding he he called on the Berkeley police, who are endeavoring

Pioneer Woman to Be Buried Tomorrow

RICHMOND, Aug. 29.—Funeral services for Minnie Bliza Lee, who died Sunday at her home on Mead street, St. George, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. from a local undertaking parlor. The remains will be cremated at Sunset View cemetery.

Deceased was a native of California and 52 years of age. She is survived by her husband, Finley L. Lee, and the following children: Forest F. Beulah R. Loris V. and Lea, all of Richmond.

Thursday to be Circus Day For Entire Eastbay

This is one of the beauties who will perform feats in mid-air at Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus.

Grownups as well as children feel tingle of anticipation at coming show.

Hooray! The circus is coming to town! This is the gleeful shout of many a youngster as he gazes enraptured upon the flaming billboards which herald the advent of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus due to hold forth under the "big top" at Forty-fifth street and San Pablo avenue Thursday afternoon and evening.

The youngsters are not the only ones interested in the coming of this aggregation of circus performers and animals as may be determined by the somewhat surreptitious but interested glances given to the billboards by grownups who have not lost their delight in seeing a circus.

This is the first visit to the Pacific Coast of these combined shows and the circus again claims to be by far the biggest aggregation ever assembled under canvas. It takes exactly one hundred double length railroad cars to transport the vast properties of the circus, it is claimed. There are 700 young beasts and rare animals not seen with any other show, it is said. The menagerie includes the only giraffes traveling in this country, it is claimed.

The three ring circus lasts for three hours, according to advance notices, and the big tent has a capacity of 15,000 persons. The performance opens with a big pageant depicting the well known characters from story-book land of Jack the Giant Killer and Little Bo Peep throughout the list of fairy tales. Then follows a bewildering array two hundred trained horses in equestrian acts, numberless clowns, five heads of elephants and a series of novelty acts imported from all over the world, it is claimed.

CAR TRANSFERS CHANGE SEPT. 1

Street car patrons are asked to familiarize themselves with details of the new transfer system which will become effective on all Eastbay street car lines September 1, in a statement issued today by W. R. Alberger, vice-president and general manager of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway.

The new transfer system will in no way effect present transfer privileges enjoyed by passengers, but will tend to simplify the transfer problem, according to Alberger, who points out that the difference between the new and the old systems lies mainly in the validation plan whereby only one transfer is needed for travel between any two points within the transfer limits.

When a passenger wishes to make a change to a third car the passenger presents his transfer and the conductor of the second car validates it for presentation to the conductor on the third car. A second transfer will, however, be issued when necessary.

The color of the new transfers will indicate the direction in which passengers are entitled to travel; one color will be for "inbound" and another for "outbound" traffic.

The new type of transfer was introduced some time ago in San Francisco and has proven to be of benefit both to street-car patrons and to the operating companies of that city as well. It is not so complicated as the present transfer and will be more easily understood, according to Alberger.

Habitual Victim of Thieves Roiled

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Alfred De Witt Haines, law student at the University of California, does not mind contributing in small amounts to members of the burglars' profession about the bay, but when it becomes a steady habit to pick on him he objects.

Last night, according to Haines, his room was entered at the Delta Chi fraternity house, 2200 Piedmont avenue, and a gold watch and chain and $20 in cash taken. A few weeks ago he says his room was also entered and $52 in cash stolen.

Artisan wells drew their name from a well in Artois, France, from which water has run steadily since 1120.

HEALTHIEST CITY MOVE LAUNCHED BY BERKLEYANS

Chamber Forms Committee to Work for Minimum Death Rate.

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Berkeley formally organized yesterday to make the college city the healthiest and safest place in the nation in which to reside.

The first meeting of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce committee for reducing mortality was held yesterday and organization of a campaign in which every city of the size of the college community in the country has been invited to join was perfected.

A. J. Tucker was made general chairman and presided at the meeting. The following attended and signified their determination to carry through this civic work: Roy Henderson; Dr. Ernest H. Pape; Chief of Police August Vollmer; Dr. Alvin Powell of the Alameda County Health Center; Dr. Robert T. Legge, health officer of the University of California; E. E. Thornton of the East Bay Safety Council; Harry S. Smith of the Safety Council; Roy Marsh, Boy Scout Executive; Dr. J. I. Benton; Dr. Clarence W. Page; Dr. May H. Sampson, physician; Dr. C. R. Kruse, dentist; C. R. Webb, H. A. Higgins and Charles Keeler, secretary Berkeley Chamber of Commerce.

In the discussion it was pointed out by Tucker that deaths from tuberculosis in the United States had been reduced to nearly one-half in the past twenty years, while deaths from accidents, especially from motor vehicle casualties, are increasing at an alarming rate.

Chief Vollmer spoke of the increase in suicides, insanity and degeneracy and asserted that the death toll from automobile accidents during the year of the war had exceeded the casualties in the American army.

Dr. Legge called attention to the remarkable showing of infant mortality records in Berkeley and suggested the importance of a study of mental hygiene in promoting health.

Dr. Pape suggested the appointment of chairmen for each subdivision of the work and a motion was carried that the various representatives of organizations present at the meeting should act as chairmen in their own special fields.

BOY SCOUT DRIVE MEETS SUPPORT

ALAMEDA, Aug. 29.—Enthusiastic support for the $5000 drive of the Alameda Boy Scout is being pledged throughout the city, according to reports received, the Boy Scout camp, adjoining the public library at Oak street, between Central and Santa Clara avenues.

Last night fully 150 scouts and their friends gathered for a camp fire at which the progress and purposes of the drive were discussed by a number of speakers, including Scout leaders, members of the Rotary Club and others.

Scout fifty boys are sleeping under tents at the camp, which is under the direct charge of Scout Quartermaster E. H. Levy. Scout Executive Edward Albert is in general charge of the scout work at the camp.

The drive here is being sponsored by the Rotary Club and A. W. Porter, representing the club, is in charge of the drive work.

Scouts are increasing at an alarming rate.

Chief Vollmer spoke of the increase in suicides, insanity and degeneracy and asserted that the death toll from automobile accidents during the year of the war had exceeded the casualties in the American army.

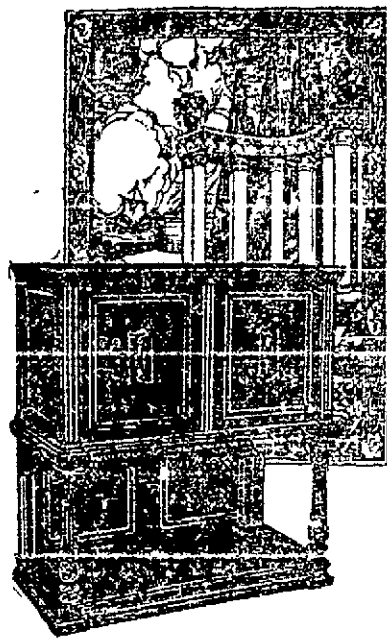

Dr. Legge called attention to the remarkable showing of infant mortality records in Berkeley and suggested the importance of a study of mental hygiene in promoting health.

'MIKADO' REVIVAL AT AUDITORIUM PROVES SUCCESS

Production of Old Favorite Among Best in Series of Operas.

The production of "The Mikado" at the Auditorium theater this week by the Hartman-Stiedorf Comic Opera Company, is just one more affirmative argument on the question: "Resolved, that the Hartman-Stiedorf Company should return to Oakland permanently." It is one of the most elaborate and best-dressed operas the company has yet produced.

"The Mikado," when well done, can always be depended upon for an evening of real entertainment, and with Ferris Hartman taking the part of Ko-Ko, lord high executioner of Tinpu, the opera is complete, except for the part played by John Van, who is Nanki-Poo, son of the mikado, disguised as a wandering minstrel. John Van sings and from that fact he takes a part in which not only good singing is necessary but a little acting as well. John Van can not act, and obviously makes no effort at it, so the part is lacking in some of its elements that add to a performance.

Lillian Glaser taking the part of Yum-Yum, ward of Ko-Ko, who elects to marry Nanki-Poo instead of Ko-Ko, is as pleasing as ever, although her vocal opportunities, which she is slow to grasp, are limited in the part. Her sisters, Patti-Sing and Peep-Bo, played by Hazel Van Hatten and Edna Malone, lose no opportunities whether it is singing or acting. Patti-Sing, taking the part of Katisha, an elderly lady who is in love with Nanki-Poo, is at her best. From a pretty face to that befitting a witch, no one but perhaps her most intimate associates could identify her on the stage.

By no means is Paul Hartman to be lost sight of in his part as Neban, an umbrella bearer for the mikado. He adds to his part so much silliness that he brings the house down with laughter.

Rafael Bruner taking the part of Foo-Bah, lord high everything, outdoes himself in all his previous efforts. The chorus is good, but could with a little more time between shows, be made to act in harmony.

Ferris Hartman, it must be admitted, cannot sing. He even admits it. But from the very fact that his nerve will permit him to make the effort he ends up with four encores and an unanimous request from the audience for a fifth. He is at his best, and that is saying much, when the time arrives for him to execute someone—no matter who, just to please the Mikado. Prospects of death in boiling oil, for a blunder in the execution, gives him room to unloosen his tongue and to let us know of it rapidly.

Louis Fitz in Fish-Tush is another Hartman-Stiedorf favorite who has been given a part he plays well. The costumes are, as one might say, gorgeous.

Harry Tyler has again produced a ravishing set of scenery that adds immensely to the success of the offering.—S. T. B.

EX-SAILOR SLAIN BY POLICEMAN IN GUN DUEL

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 28.—Carl E. Harrison, a discharged sailor, was shot and killed on the platform at the Santa Fe station here last night in a revolver duel with Patrolman Richards.

Eleven shots were fired, one bullet squarely striking, but not penetrating the nicked shield on the officer's breast directly over his heart. Richards was twice wounded, but will recover.

Harrison was recognized as one of the bandits who held up and robbed a Standard Oil collector. The policeman recognized him from his description and the duel, started as soon as he accosted the man.

Yesterday's holdup was spectacular. The bandits halted the collector, seized the money bags and stole his car. They abandoned the auto in a wild canyon, which was surrounded by squads of police, but the robbers effected their escape.

Rafael Bruner taking the part of Foo-Bah, lord high everything, outdoes himself in all his previous efforts. The chorus is good, but could with a little more time between shows, be made to act in harmony.

Ferris Hartman, it must be admitted, cannot sing. He even admits it. But from the very fact that his nerve will permit him to make the effort he ends up with four encores and an unanimous request from the audience for a fifth. He is at his best, and that is saying much, when the time arrives for him to execute someone—no matter who, just to please the Mikado. Prospects of death in boiling oil, for a blunder in the execution, gives him room to unloosen his tongue and to let us know of it rapidly.

Louis Fitz in Fish-Tush is another Hartman-Stiedorf favorite who has been given a part he plays well. The costumes are, as one might say, gorgeous.

Harry Tyler has again produced a ravishing set of scenery that adds immensely to the success of the offering.—S. T. B.

Lillian Glaser taking the part of Yum-Yum, ward of Ko-Ko, who elects to marry Nanki-Poo instead of Ko-Ko, is as pleasing as ever, although her vocal opportunities, which she is slow to grasp, are limited in the part. Her sisters, Patti-Sing and Peep-Bo, played by Hazel Van Hatten and Edna Malone, lose no opportunities whether it is singing or acting. Patti-Sing, taking the part of Katisha, an elderly lady who is in love with Nanki-Poo, is at her best. From a pretty face to that befitting a witch, no one but perhaps her most intimate associates could identify her on the stage.

MOURNERS ARE FIRED UPON BY IRELAND REBELS

People Leaving Memorial Service at Mayo Church Are Attacked.

BELFAST, Aug. 29 (By the Associated Press).—Republican irregulars fired upon a congregation of mourners yesterday as they were leaving a West Port (Mayo) church, having attended mass in honor of Michael Collins, says a message received today by the Athlone correspondent for the Belfast Telegraph Union. The correspondent said that the Athlone military headquarters was without official knowledge of the reported shooting, but the unofficial messages stated that five civilians were killed and several others wounded. The republicans fired at the worshippers from across a river, the message said, and men, women and children fled in all directions as volleys of shot and shrapnel poured their direction. Troops vigorously replied to the firing and a stiff engagement ensued after the arrival of reinforcements, but the republicans were finally driven from the town.

DUNDALK IS MENACED.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29 (By International News Service).—Republican irregulars were again menacing the port of Dundalk in the northern part of County Louth today, but the force was described as weak in strength and no fears were felt here of a serious southward advance against this city. The Free Staters have redoubled their efforts to clean up the guerrilla bands in the provinces, but the work is difficult.

ATTACK MADE ON CABLES.

DUBLIN, Aug. 29 (By the Associated Press).—A British child, the author of the "Riddle of the Sands" and former noted pacifist, led Irish rebels in a motorboat attack today upon international cables at Valentia. The children's party was beaten off by Free State troops after they had cut one cable.

The former pacifist is now with Damonn de Valera, directing the insurgent revolt against the Free State. He assisted the Irish during the war against Britain and then turned against Collins and Griffith following the split in the Dail.

Mrs. Childers is a former American girl.

S. F. Man Beaten in Public Links Play

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 29.—The first round of match play in the national public links golf tournament found all of the favorites victorious. Eddie Field of St. Louis, George Aulbach of Boston, medalist in the qualifying rounds; Mike Tobin Jr. of Philadelphia, and William Quinlan of Boston, all won their matches, while Canada kept in the running through the shooting of J. P. Christie of Toronto, and the Pacific coast was eliminated when Fred Murphy of San Francisco lost to Richard Walsh of New York.

The feature match was Mike Tobin's 1 up victory over W. N. Mather of Baltimore.

Furniture and the Free Market

Last Saturday we passed the free market. The parking space was packed. On three sides the streets were double lined with parked cars. Two officers were in charge of the traffic. The owners of all these cars were thrifty people, buying to the best advantage.

It occurred to us that if all these people had bought their furniture with the same care, what thousands of dollars could have been saved. The saving on one good bedroom suite IF BOUGHT

AT THE FACTORY, would be more than the total savings on marketing for an entire year.

You know that no one can sell for less than he who makes an article. You know that added handling means added costs. Buy direct from the makers and save the difference.

Solid mahogany breakfast room, dining-room and bed room furniture for at least one third less than retail price at the factory. Motor out and drive in or take No. 8, J or K cars.

Of course, if you have once tried S&W Coffee, you must have noticed its chief characteristic—the mellow'd flavor. That is put there by Nature. But only long ageing before roasting brings it out.

'NEWBERRYISM' WILL FIGURE AT MICHIGAN POLLS

Fight for Republican Nomination for U. S. Senator Holds Spotlight

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Aspirants for various political offices have begun the long campaign grind that will reach a climax with the state-wide primary election, September 12.

The fight for the republican nomination for United States senator continues to hold the spotlight among Michigan electors, due to the more important issue involved. This issue arises from the campaign of Senator Truman H. Newberry, his election and the seating of him by his colleagues at Washington. Although Newberry is not up for reelection, as he still has a part of his term to serve, the incidents surrounding his brief political career have been drawn into the campaign because Senator Charles E. Townsend strongly championed him in the senate.

The battle against Senator Townsend has become a "three against one" proposition, a trio of men seeking to displace him from the republican side. There are three congressmen Patrick H. Kelley of Lansing, former National Legion Commander, Major John G. Emery of Grand Rapids and State Senator Herbert F. Baker of Westland.

Each of the senator's opponents is using "Newberryism" as one of the keynotes of his campaign, although to date Major Emery has confined most of his campaign talk to a plea for a soldiers' bonus and other proposed legislation. Congressman Kelley has been particularly loud in his denunciation of Senator Newberry and of Senator Townsend because of the latter's support of the junior senator. Baker, choice of the farmer-labor group within the republican party, has denounced "Newberryism" and demanded legislation favorable to laboring men in the cities and to the farmers.

The winner of the four-cornered race will be opposed during the election campaign by Woodbridge E. Ferris, former governor and one of the few democrats ever elected to the governorship.

Cousins to Have Claim in Bell Estate

Two cousins have been located, who, under the terms of the will, can lay claim to the residue of the estate of Mrs. Teresa Bell, thus preventing any of it going to the state, according to declarations made today by Attorney E. J. Talbot, representing the executors. Talbot said he was not yet at liberty to disclose names of the two, but that they were in a position to establish their relationship. Whether they ultimately come into possession of the residue of the estate amounting to several hundred thousand dollars depends upon whether the will of Mrs. Bell withstands the contest filed late yesterday by Muriel Bell Hoster, one of the children disinherited in the will.

This contest, filed by Attorneys John L. McNab and Bert Schlesinger, asserts that Mrs. Bell was insane and incompetent on June 7 when the will was made, on the dates when the codicils were attached and for a long period prior to 1910.

The two cousins who have been located base their claim in the estate in a clause which stated that the residue should go to the state of California or to cousins "if found." One of these cousins resides in California and the other in the east, according to Talbot.

Defaulting Treasurer Begins Jail Terms

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 29.—J. L. Helman, former county treasurer of Thomas county, convicted of embezzling $9,000 while serving as treasurer, voluntarily entered the state penitentiary last night to serve his sentence of one to twenty years. The supreme court recently affirmed his sentence and Helman said he did not care to avail himself of the right to file a motion for a new trial. He was at liberty on bail when his sentence was affirmed. He bade his wife and baby goodbye and said he was ready to begin his term.

Dodge Estate Totals Nearly $1 Millions

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 29.—The estate of the late John F. Dodge automobile manufacturer, is valued at $30,893,588.41, in an inventory filed with the probate court here. The $50,000 shares of the Dodge Brothers Motor Car Company, held by Dodge were appraised at $33,018,750; nearly $10,000,000 of the estate was in liberty bonds and $1,043,293 was in cash. The balance of the estate was in personal property.

STATE ENDORSES WOOD FUEL DRIVE

READING, Pa., August 28.—The Berks County Conservation Association's campaign, urging throughout the county the use of timber of little marketable value to avert a possible fuel famine, has been endorsed by the state department of forestry at Harrisburg. The plea of the association to Berks land owners has already borne fruit, and many householders have laid in a supply of wood. The association is posting placards throughout the county urging householders to use cord wood cut from such timber. In order to save coal for hospitals, schools, churches and industries. Harvey F. Heintz, president of the association, has received the following letter from Major R. Y. Stuart, state commissioner of forestry:

"I think the Berks County Conservation Association's plan of calling the attention of the public to the availability of suitable wood, particularly blighted chestnut, for fuel as a means of averting distress this winter, is an excellent one. The department in turn is encouraging the use of the chestnut on the state forests for this purpose. I believe the campaign will do much good, particularly in those sections of the state wherein it is feasible to use wood as fuel without a change in equipment. Further, to the extent to which blighted chestnut can be utilized, the owner and forest are benefited."

The original list of the Mayflower showed 144 passengers.

High Hat Harris

TODAY'S SHORT STORY
by Ad Schuster

ED WYLIE spent his vacation in Mexico and the United States. He walked three times a day from his hotel on the American side of Juarez across the border to a restaurant where he could eat the peppery enchilada and, incidentally study at leisure the town's eccentric character, High Hat Harris.

It would be a simple thing to become a town character. Ed thought as he looked at this man who was known to everyone in the divided city. A high hat, Prince Albert coat, long moustache and goatee were all that were needed. Harris walked with a jaunty air, head held high, and professed to be an expert in the selection of food and cigars. He spent his time talking to all who would listen and appeared to know nothing outside the provinces of edibles and smokes.

In the Mexican quarter where sleepy and dirty dogs sprawled in the dust and women in red skirts called shrilly to naked children, Harris provoked smiles when he passed. He was seen daily at the races smoking long cigars and posing as a heavy hiker of the favorite. Everywhere he was accepted as a bit queer and harmless.

In a city filled with gamblers from all parts of the world, exiles from home, and furtive men who kept always on the Mexican side, Ed found a wealth of material for speculation. Only Harris, whose keen eyes denied the simple reputation which had been given him, puzzled the lad and Ed lost no opportunity to engage him in conversation.

On the train Ed sat in the smoker next to a tall and immaculate man who wore a sporty cap pulled well over his forehead. He had a smooth sharp face which Ed thought looked like the pictures of Sherlock Holmes.

"That must be the reason I keep thinking I have seen him before," Ed decided and he looked away when he found the man's steady gaze on him.

In the washroom Ed experienced a shock. The man, who had been washing his face, had his cap off for once and there on his forehead was a daisy-shaped cluster of black marks.

"Look here," said the detective and adventurer in Ed Wylie, "you are High Hat Harris! What does it all mean?"

"Young fellow," said the man in a pitying voice that was not that of Harris, "the heat of this country does strange things. May I ask what pleasure it would give you if I were to say I was this High Hat person?"

You better go back and take a nice long rest."

For once Ed Wylie was stumped. This was not the manner or tone of Harris. He stammered an apology and walked out. It was impossible, he told himself later, that two men could have marks like that. He would wire the hotel mar. to see if Harris was still in town. And he would watch this other fellow.

When Ed visited the smoker again the tall man was gone, nor could he be found on the train. The conductor said his ticket read to New York and yet he must have left the coach at one of the small stations during the last hour. Ed took the problem back to his seat and decided he had been right. This man was High Hat Harris, the Juarez town character, and he had taken his mystery and his story with him.

THERE is no easier way for a crook to get by with dirty work than to set himself up as an eccentric. It was all old friend, a police captain, who commented on the yard Ed had brought home from his vacation. Your friend with the daisy marks was Tampico Tom, one of the slickest smugglers in the game. Why, I saw this High Hat Harry when the association met in Juarez and never spotted him. He walked back and forth over the line and worked through a bunch in Mexico most likely, and because he was known as a nut everyone took him for granted.

"Anyway," said Ed, taking what little credit he could out of his part in the story, "he will have to lie low now."

"And most likely," the captain went on, "he carried the stones and the dope in the very hat which gave him his name."

Nippon Banker Has Pessimistic View

TOKYO, August 28.—President Inouye, of the Bank of Japan, despite the encouraging prospects for the raw silk trade, still sees no cause for optimism respecting the general economic situation in Japan. He is in an entirely pessimistic mood, and he has taken the opportunity to say that the Bank of Japan had not followed the Bank of England and the Federal Reserve Bank in lowering the bank rate. President Inouye said that while it was quite proper to lower the rates in America and England, where there had been no great demand for capital during the general industrial depression, but where the business is now under readjustment, in Japan the conditions were different. Here there was no lack of demand for capital but the bankers were pursuing a cautious policy, refraining from all speculative investment.

The president said he did not believe that the government's policy of retrenchment would result in any immediate lowering of prices without which economic recovery was difficult.

Farmers to Get Cheap Explosives

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Farmers of the country this fall will be able to have hundreds of thousands of dollars in clearing their land of stumps in drainage work and in other efforts requiring blasting through the use of picric acid salvaged from military war explosives which will be distributed by the United States Bureau of Roads, it was announced today. The only cost to the farmers, who may obtain supplies of the explosive through any state agricultural college or agricultural state extension service, will be a charge of six cents a pound for drying the acid and placing it in cartridges and in addition, the small expense of transportation.

STEALS EGGS. A hungry burglar entered the apartment of A. J. McKie, 469 Hubbard street, and stole eight eggs. Captain of Inspectors Walter J. Petersen has detailed two detectives on the case. Nothing else was taken from the apartment. The thief entered the house by using a pass key.

HITS LIGHT POLE. In order to avoid colliding with another machine, W. H. Dennis, 524 Shafter avenue, was forced to make a short turn and in doing so ran his automobile into an "electro" pole. The accident occurred last night at Fifty-eighth street and Telegraph avenue. The machine was wrecked.

ONE THIRD COMPLETE. Florence, Ala., Aug. 28.—Wilson dam was practically one third built when work was stopped last year, according to the district engineer's data. The project when completed will be the largest single unit of masonry in the world, containing 1,350,000 cubic yards. The total length will be 4,500 feet and the structure will be spanned by a highway bridge.

Don't Spoil Your Child's Hair By Washing It

When you wash your child's hair be careful what you use. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats anything else all to pieces.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup of glass with a little warm water is all that is required. Simply moisten the hair with water, and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.
You can get Mulsified at any drug store, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months.
Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

WIDE REDUCTION IN ARMY SHOWN BY STAFF PLANS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The new reorganization plan for the army, drafted by the General Staff in order to meet reduction in personnel in accordance with Congressional acts fixing the enlisted strength at 125,000, calls for sweeping changes in the number and size of tactical units. An explanatory statement issued today by the War Department shows a large number of such units which will be either further reduced in strength, made inactive, or demobilized.

Only 37 regiments of infantry will remain in the combat service as a result of the reduction, as compared to 64 regiments called for under the National Defense Act of 1920. The cavalry regiments are reduced from 16 in 1920 to 14;
the field artillery regiments from 33 in 1920 to 13; plus eight separate battalions, coast artillery regiments from nine to four, plus those at fixed defenses and the anti-air regiments from 13 in 1920 to seven.

In addition to the reduction in number, the infantry regiments, the statement said, have been reduced in strength from 14,000 men to 11,500, and the cavalry regiments from 813 to 641.

REGIMENTS REDUCED.
The 12th and 34th Infantry regiments were reduced to 812 enlisted men, respectively, while those made inactive, with records assigned to active associates and provision made for rehabilitation, included the 36th, 37th, 49th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, and 61st regiments, as well as the 18th Light Tank Battalion, the 20th Infantry Brigade Headquarters and Headquarters Company, and the 10th Tank Company. Those demobilized with records turned in to the Adjutant General and no provision made for rehabilitation included the 44th, 46th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 55th, 56th, 58th, 59th, 62nd, 63rd and 64th regiments.

Nine training center troops of cavalry were demobilized and the 9th cavalry regiment was ordered returned to the United States for station at Fort Riley, Kansas.

Other organizations made inactive, demobilized, or converted into smaller units included several in the field artillery service, the coast artillery, air service, engineers, signal corps, quartermaster corps, ordnance department and chemical warfare service.

CAMPS DISPOSED OF.
Of the camps, distinguished from contaminations, used for mobilization and demobilization, several were pointed out, all have been disposed of except Camp McClelland, Alabama, which was retained for training purposes in the Fourth Corps Area.

Of the 14 national army contingents, Camp Mead, Md., Camp
N. J., Camp Mead, Md., and Funston, Kans., are retained for training purposes in their respective Corps Areas. Camp Travis, Texas, was retained for the Division of Station and the principal training area for the Eighth Corps.

Camp Lewis, Washington, was retained as the principal area for the 9th Corps, and permanent station for the Third Division. While Camp Mead, Maryland, was kept for training purposes of the 3rd Corps Area.

"The reduction of officers," the statement added, "is provided in the last appropriate form has begun, but will not be completed until December 15. A board of General Officers is now meeting daily at the War Department."

A tabulation of commissioned personnel to be reduced by grades, showed 689 colonels to be reduced to 420; 667 lieutenant-colonels to 377; 2,191 majors to 1,575; 4,385 captains to 2,967; 3,026 first lieutenants to 2,067; and second lieutenants to 1,771. These reductions will be made from officers on the non-promotion list. The reduction of 1,126 to 855 in the regular corps means a reduction of 271 in the Dental Corps; from 158 to 126 in the Veterinary Corps; and 138 to 72 in the Motor Ambulance Corps.

Eight hundred officers on the promotion list, graduated from the first lieutenant, will be retained until they are absorbed, or recom-missioned in their next lower grade. When this is accomplished, the statement concluded, a minimum of 1,714 will be retained, and the necessary this year by retirement, reassignment or discharge.

"This is a minimum reduction of 13.5 per cent, or approximately of one officer out of every seven," the statement added, "and that is the final reduction in commissioned personnel will be made of officers to branch and arm of service and to the various organizations of the army."

HONOLULU, T. H., Aug. 29.—
Colburn H. MaEmae, Hawaiian, waited 37 years for his wife, Emily, to return to him before he brought suit for divorce on the grounds of desertion, he testified here at the hearing on his case. MaEmae and his wife were married in Ewa, Oahu, in 1884, the year following the coronation of King Kalanikouhi, and she left him four months after the marriage, he testified. Since then he has waited for her return but finally concluded that she "meant to stay away," he said.

Defense Force To Be Reduced

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 29.—
The proposed economies in the Australian defense scheme are expected to result in the reduction of the Australian Defense Force from 80,000 to 51,000 enlisted men and a decrease in the number of officers from 300 to 80.

After training as cadets during the time between the ages of 16 and 18 years, youths will pass automatically into the ranks of citizen soldiers. Two quotas will go into camp instead of six, as at present, and there will be four days training at home in addition to six days in camp.

The New PEERLESS

*Power, Speed and Ductility Unparalleled
In the Annals of American Motoring*

We are assured of the sale of all these new Peerless cars we can produce during the entire current year.

This message to you, therefore, is simply an invitation—an invitation to come in and pass judgment on what we believe you will pronounce a remarkable piece of work notably well done.

It is our hope—and our expectation also —that the verdict of those competent to judge, will be such that all over America tomorrow the name Peerless will take on a new meaning and a deeper significance.

You have been promised great things in the name of Peerless, and after many months, to the very best of our ability, that promise is about to be fulfilled.

We shall be disappointed if you do not say that Peerless has evolved out of the eight-cylinder principle, capacities for enjoyment and ease which eight-cylinder cars have never yet yielded.

But extracting from this principle its utter-most in power, sustained speed, and ductility, we believe we have introduced into the fabrication of motor cars, elements of ease—or at any rate degrees of ease—they have not possessed before.

This process of evolution will, we are convinced, give you a new conception of power and speed by which all cars of the highest grade will be judged from this time forward.

The contrast between abundant power as you have heretofore experienced it, and power as you will encounter it in the Peerless, is so marked that it immediately manifests itself in a most amazing way in the performance of the car.

It has all the natural swift response, manageability, and soft action of the eight-cylinder principle, accelerated to a degree of obedience and ductility that will prove a new delight.

These are our honest convictions—but the proof and the verdict rest with you.

There is in all men who feel that they have done a good piece of work, a craving for appreciation.

We frankly confess to that human weakness.

This car was built for your approval—to win, if possible, first place in the favor of the discriminating motorists of America.

Therefore, we not only ask, but urge, you to come in and see the new Peerless, and if it pleases and inspires you as we hope and believe it will, give us the satisfaction of earning your endorsement.

And when we say you we mean the entire family—not excluding the boys (who are probably the best judges of motor cars in the household) and certainly including mother and the girls, to whom the exquisite design and appointments of the new Peerless will make special appeal.

THE PEERLESS MOTOR CAR CO., CLEVELAND, OHIO

The New Peerless

It is our sincere belief that nothing short of the most costly custom-built creations can compare with the beauty of the new Peerless eight-cylinder motor car.

The body design itself is one of unusual grace and exceptionally fine proportions. The car is longer and lower. The wheels are smaller, the tires larger. The tenders are exceedingly attractive. A new radiator and hood present an extremely pleasing aspect.

The degree of riding smoothness is so pronounced, by reason of the longer wheelbase—now 128 inches—and the new equipment with extra-long semi-elliptic springs, that it will induce you, we believe, to say this is the most comfortable car you have ever ridden in.

The driver finds himself in a position of greatest ease, whence he steers, shifts gears, starts and stops with the very minimum of exertion.

Perhaps the most notable feature of the new Peerless Eight road behavior is its smoothness—a lack of chattering and bumping and sideways bound to delight the motorist who has always sought such comfort and always fallen short of finding it.

This new Peerless Eight goes even further, if that is possible, in these splendid qualities of reliability which enable a car always to respond promptly and efficiently, no matter what it is called upon to do.

The power, the speed, the ductility for which the Peerless eight-cylinder engine has long been famous, are enhanced by carefully worked out engineering improvements. Engine design is cleaner. All parts are easy to get at.

Deluxe wiring, lighting and ignition contribute to the all-around dependability of the car. The storage battery is Exide.

Both axles are Timken, the front with roller-bearings not only on the wheel spindles, but in the steering pivots as well, to increase steering ease still further; and the rear of the semi-elliptic type, with 15½ x 2½ inch brakes—a size scientifically proportioned to the weight and power of the car.

It is easy to appreciate all we say of riding comfort when it is known that the front springs are 41 inches long and the rear springs 60 inches long. The shackles have the unusually large diameter of ¾ inch, which means almost no wear at a point ordinarily slighted in engineering.

Open cars carry the Peerless permanent top, equipped with dome light. The side curtains fit so snugly that they give the practical advantages of a closed car.

In the closed car types, the doors and windows are unusually wide, the hardware reminds you of fine jewelry, and every necessary of comfort is provided.

Maximum strength in the chassis frame is secured by side bars measuring 7¼ inches at their greatest depth. Rigid cross-members, and stout tubular cross-members at both ends, obviate the wearing that inevitably results in body squeaks and rattles.

In addition to a complete equipment of tools, the new Peerless is provided with rear-view mirror, windshield wipers, combination speedometer and clock, a handy lamp of the reel type, and a special Peerless oil lamp which incorporates an automatic cleaner to keep it burning.

shaft where her husband is held prisoner.

All night long Red Cross workers served coffee to the relatives of the imprisoned miners and cared for their needs. Others attended rescue workers as they came to the surface near exhaustion.

Superintendent V. Gabarini of the mine flatly refused to discuss the accident or give out any information when he returned to the surface at 3:30 a. m. today.

"To hell with the public—this is the business of the company and the miners," he told newspapermen.

A movement to demand Federal and State investigation already is started among townspeople and relatives of the miners. This investigation would be aimed to determine the cause of the fire, which still is unknown; the conduct of early efforts at rescue, and whether the mine was operated in accordance with State and Federal safety laws.

An air vent was said to be located at the 420-foot level of the Argonaut mine leading to the Muldoon but it was not of a nature which would permit its use in making an escape.

Formerly a connecting tunnel leading to the Kennedy mine gave another outlet to the Argonaut but after the fire in the Argonaut three years ago damaged the Kennedy workings, this tunnel was closed.

State Official Flies by Night To Aid Rescue

JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—H. M. Wolflin, superintendent of the bureau of safety of the State Industrial Accident Commission, arrived here last night in an army airplane from San Francisco. He made the distance, approximately 100 miles, in one hour and fifteen minutes. Wolflin is working in cooperation with Byron O. Pickard, engineer of the United States Bureau of Mines, who is in charge of rescue work at the burning Argonaut mine, where 48 men are entombed.

ASK THE TRIBUNE Bureau Information

A TRIBUNE reader sends in a query concerning the street car transfer system.

There is no state law to compel the company to rectify a passenger's mistake. Children often do not ask the conductor, at the time when he issues transfers, where the transfer point was located.

A new system of transfers goes into effect on September 1. We suggest that you warn children to ask the conductor when they are not sure.

Pears should be sterilized 20 minutes, and peaches 15 minutes, according to the United States government book on home canning.

STATE OFFICIAL HOLDS OUT HOPE OF SAVING MEN

Miners Rushed From Grass Valley District to Aid in Rescue Work.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

LEASD WIRE TO TRIBUNE. JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—Hope for the rescue of men now said to be trapped since midnight Sunday by a fire in the Argonaut gold mine, was revived today when it was announced that crews digging away tunnel obstructions between the Kennedy and Argonaut main shafts were making better progress than expected. H. M. Wolflin, superintendent of the bureau of safety of the state industrial accident commission, made the announcement.

Wolflin expressed the hope that there may be pure air enough at the bottom of the mine to keep the men alive until they can be rescued. The tunneling at the 2300 and 2600 foot levels of the Argonaut is being torn out to check the flames.

The work is being directed by a United States bureau of mines rescue crew headed by Byron O. Pickard of Berkeley, engineer of the bureau. According to Wolflin both the Argonaut and the Kennedy crews are giving the government men such efficient co-operation that the hope of rescuing the entombed men is becoming stronger each hour.

Tracks are laid in the tunnel now being cleared and this is facilitating the work there. The men are working in four six-hour shifts.

Every available man has been rushed from the mines at Grass Valley and Nevada City for the rescue work, and there is no lack of help, Wolflin said.

His launch will be used to bring the two youths back to Los Angeles when they are found.

Plans for sending out a large party have been laid and will be carried out unless some word from the missing men is received shortly.

ARGONAUT PRODUCES MILLION ANNUALLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—The Argonaut is one of California's oldest and most famous gold mines. Located in the heart of the country made notable by the days of '49, the mine has been an apparently inexhaustible source of gold. More than $1,000,000 in gold annually is taken from the property.

The Argonaut mine was opened twenty-five years ago by W. F. Detert, a San Francisco capitalist. It has a shaft depth of approximately 5000 feet. It is located a little more than 100 miles northeast of San Francisco.

A few months ago the Argonaut was the scene of a $60,000 bullion robbery.

FORD'S CLOSING ORDER AIMED AT COAL PROFITEERS

Offered Enough Coal to Fill 10 Acres, But Refuses to Pay Brokers' Prices.

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—(By The Associated Press).—Henry Ford, in announcing Saturday that his plants would be closed September 16 because of conditions in the coal industry, began a fight for what he believes is a great principle. The Associated Press was informed today in sources close to the manufacturer.

Ford, it was stated, has started what he declares is a fight against all profiteering in coal and he believes he is in a better position perhaps to do so than anyone else. He feels, it was stated, that by taking up the fight he is doing every other manufacturer as well as workingmen throughout the country, a real service.

Ford denies there is a coal shortage. The investigation of his representatives has convinced him, it was stated, that coal brokers in the country have an enormous supply of coal on hand. The Ford Motor Company could obtain enough coal to cover a tract ten acres square if it would submit to being victimized by profiteers, it was declared.

For several weeks, it was asserted, the Ford offices at Dearborn have been flooded with offers of coal with delivery guaranteed. It was declared that the prices asked ranged from 100 to 300 per cent above the normal cost.

The Detroit manufacturer believes that if he yields to what he terms "the holdup" of the coal brokers, every other manufacturer will follow suit and that coal prices will reach an unprecedented figure. One source close to Ford's manufacturer had "at the back of his mind" a picture of workingmen being unable to buy enough coal to keep their families warm because of the prices that eventually would be asked "unless this profiteering was nipped in its inception."

Fight Till Justice Comes, Is Slogan

(By Associated Press)

The following telegram was received today by J. P. Thorpe, international vice-president of Railway Machinists, from J. F. McGrath, vice-president of the Railway Employees' Department, American Federation of Labor, Chicago:

You were in reference to failure of conference of railroad executives. Our program is now as it has been since July 1—to fight this strike until justice is received for the membership we represent.

Interstate Commerce Commission report to Senate on August 23 states that 35,000 locomotives now in actual service, are in dangerous condition, 20,000 out of service. This number largely increasing daily. If railroad executives desire to disrupt the transportation industry and penalize the public, their arbitrary position during recent negotiations will quickly do so.

TERMINATION OF "BIG FOUR" WORK PACTS REPORTED

Rumor Says Leaders Considering 30-Days Notice to End Agreements.

(Copyright, 1922, by International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—While both legislative and executive branches of the government were engaged today in developing plans to meet the industrial emergency, International News Service was informed today in sources close to the manufacturer.

The Brotherhoods want assurance from the railroads on four main points before entering into new working agreements, according to brotherhood spokesmen in Washington. These are:

1. No reduction in wages. 2. Armed guards employed in the shopmen's strike to be confined to the shops themselves. 3. No compromise, modification or new interpretation of seniority rights, regardless of the outcome of the shopmen's strike. 4. Assurance that only safe equipment will be used and impaired rolling stock will be repaired upon orders from inspectors.

Work in Dark Shatters Mine Chief's Nerves

ARGONAUT MINE, JACKSON, Cal., Aug. 29.—"If it was only a railroad wreck—only a railroad wreck—I might be able to do something," seemed to be the chief thought in the mind of V. Gabarini, superintendent of the Argonaut mine, today. He moaned those words over and over again as he went about his work of rescue.

"It would be out in the open," he mumbled to a group of workmen. "I could see how to handle it and help them. But this—it is all in the dark. It's beyond my reach."

Victims Hold Own Rescue in Hands

JACKSON, Aug. 29.—"Their lives are in their own hands."

This was the consensus of opinion this afternoon of experienced miners on the fate of 43 men trapped in the depths of the Argonaut gold mine nearly a mile underground.

Hope had practically been given up this afternoon of controlling the fire. The only hope lay in the efforts of the crews engaged in cutting a passage from the Kennedy workings to the Argonaut mine adjoining. This may take a day and it may take a week.

Meanwhile, if an experienced leader among the imprisoned men brought them together and the smoke and poisonous gases from the burning mine were bulkheaded out—there is a chance and only a long chance. It may be days before their fate is determined or even months if it is finally necessary to flood the mine.

CAPITAL FEARS NATION-WIDE R. R. SABOTAGE PLOTS

U. S. Will Probe Tragedy; Derailment Preparations Shown by Prisoner.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (By United Press.)—Federal authorities today stated to prevent a nationwide railroad sabotage plot.

A sweeping investigation was started in an effort to determine whether the wrecking of the "Million Dollar Express" at Gary was part of a national outbreak of "communist violence."

Five men were held on charges of murder in connection with the Gary wreck, which killed two trainmen and sent 23 express cars into the ditch. Five other men were held pending investigation today and authorities were looking for two more.

Railroad officials indicated that the death penalty would be asked when the men were brought to trial.

SPIKE PULLING RE-ENACTED

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Five men charged with wrecking the "Million Dollar Express" on the Michigan Central near Gary, Indiana, August 28, were held in connection with the wreck investigation and at least two more who are known were sought, according to the police.

Confessions obtained from some of the prisoners not only solved the wreck of the express, but bared a plot to send the Twentieth Century Limited crash New York-Chicago train into the ditch near Elkhart, Indiana, the police said.

The five who face murder charges are: Joseph Papourvitch, Charles Usells, John Petrowski, Albino Alessio and James Prohetch. All were said to be striking shopmen.

Usells, Petrowski and Papourvitch are said to have confessed the wreck plot. The men were employed in New York Central shops. They named Alessio in their confessions and he admitted knowledge of the plot, according to the police, but maintained that Usells, Petrowski and Papourvitch were responsible for the wreck.

Taken to the scene of the wreck, Usells, the police said, re-enacted the work of the wreckers in pulling spikes and loosening rails.

Usells, in his statement, declared that at the union meeting on Saturday a speaker, whose name he did not give, although the police are said to know it, did instruct him and his three companions to wreck a train. He said the speaker spoke as follows: "You go out to Gary or somewhere in that neighborhood and jimmy up the track to cause trouble and make it appear that equipment is in bum condition and that it's dangerous for train crews to ride trains."

On the day after the wreck, Usells asserted, plans were laid for him and Alessio to go to Elkhart, Ind., sometime next week and seek work in the New York Central shops, supposedly as strike-breakers, in an attempt to derail the Twentieth Century Limited. The arrests, the police declare, probably prevented further violence.

HELEN WILLS IS AGAIN DEFEATED BY U. S. CHAMPION

Berkeley Girl Loses Finals
at Longwood to Molla Mallory.

LONGWOOD, Mass., Aug. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, national women's champion, gained another decision over Miss Helen Wills, the girl from Berkeley, Calif., today, when she won the Longwood women's singles 3-5, 6-3, 7-5.

Miss Wills won the first set by a mixture of shots that had the champion weary in pursuit. Mrs. Mallory captured the next set but with her 16-year-old opponent a constant threat. The third set was marked by a reversal of service twice each in the first six games before it went to deuce at 5 games all.

Then the champion upset the girl's service for the advantage and went into the twelfth game. The points were 3-2 when the umpire made a ruling that was not understood. Mrs. Mallory took the ball to serve again. The crowd applauded. Then she rested her racket while she addressed the gallery to say:

"We are playing the point over again."

The point proved to be a net by Miss Wills, which gave the set to her titled opponent.

Twice previously during the match Mrs. Mallory showed herself nettled by applause through her errors, and on one occasion went to the stands to speak to a spectator.

They cut telegraph and telephone wires leading into the town and blockaded all roads except the one by which they escaped, locking this behind them as they fled Alberta provincial police so far have obtained no clues.

STILL TIME TO VOTE
Although it is a primary election which is bringing the voters to the polls today, a senator and a governor, in effect, will be elected. The nomination in these two cases is all but certain to mean election.

Because of this, and the contests for many judicial, county and certain state offices today's election is of more importance than that which will come in November. Alameda county is prepared to go to the polls in stronger numbers than ever before. There are ten thousand more names on the great register than there were in the primaries of the presidential year of 1920.

At this time, but a few hours before the ballots will be counted, it is not too late to remind those who have not cast their ballot of some of the urgent reasons why a full expression is necessary. We are in the midst of a forward movement in this city and county, all of this part of the state is engaged in the easy task of showing the world our evident resources and awakened enterprise. An energetic, progressing community responds to its duties of citizenship. The total vote as compared with the total registration will indicate something of the character of the electorate. It will show also, the growth in population.

There may be voters who care little one way or another on certain of the important contests. Perhaps it is not too late now to remind them of the many other demands the ballot presents for their expression. The polls close at 7 o'clock tonight. If Alameda county turns out in force it will increase its influence and prestige.

WASTING FORESTS
The equivalent of a row of five-room wooden bungalows set one hundred feet apart on both sides of a road from New York to Chicago is burned each year in the American forests. Annually the country reads of these fires, expresses momentary horror and decides they are among those fearful things which cannot be helped. Troops are called out to battle the creeping lines of glowing front, taxpayers pay the bills, and when the smoke which drifts over many states is cleared, tourists on overland trains look out over square miles of black and pointed stumps, ugly reminders of those glories which have disappeared.

When it is realized that every forest fire is a direct drain on the purse of the public, protection which is nearer adequate may be forthcoming. With each of these blazes the cost of everything in which the forest product enters goes up, water storage and supply is affected, and, often, power plants are reduced in efficiency.

There is a developing opinion that additional money spent for forest protection would mean a saving to the country. In this connection there has been appointed a Subcommittee on Forestry from the membership of the Committee on Agriculture in the House. It is composed of Representatives Hagen, McLaughlin, Clarke, Rainey and Jones. Before this committee is the opportunity to report on a constructive national forest policy which will mean an end to appalling annual losses.

BERKELEY'S CHALLENGE
A move which is more than one for publicity is that of Berkeley in challenging all cities of the country, between fifty and one hundred thousand population, to a year's contest in reducing mortality statistics. Obviously attention is attracted to Berkeley's present unrivaled record as a health center and with each acceptance of the challenge new interest will be directed in that city's direction. There are other results, however, which will may be expected.

Having issued such a challenge the energies of Berkeley will be directed anew to all of those problems which have to do with accident prevention and health promotion. Each city which accepts the def will give impulse to similar campaigns. At the end of the year when the totals are submitted and decision is to be made it is probable all of those communities which will have submitted their records will find their death rate lower than in previous years.

Berkeley is doing more than making a bid for merited attention; it is aiding in striking manner, the national campaign for health and safety.

CRIME INCREASING
The records of the State Bureau of Identification present material for solemn and constructive consideration. In one year, in California, three thousand more persons have been arrested for serious offenses than in the preceding twelve month period. The total was 16,042.
To bring the outstanding fact nearer home, one person out of every 218 was arrested for a serious crime in the year which ended with July. Distributed equally and continued this would mean that on every street, in every organization of any size, and in every crowd one sees upon the streets there is a man or a woman who will be arrested. It is a disquieting thought.

The taxpayer will see in these figures the cost of prosecuting, feeding and housing these sixteen thousand offenders. The criminologist and others will argue that a large part of this cost may be obviated with the application of crime prevention methods. Those who hold the law is ineffective in apprehending criminals must admit their error.

Six burglars were put behind the bars for each day in the year, two robbers were locked up and there was a murder committed on 315 of the 365 days. The crime disease is not peculiar to California. It has spread over the country with but few areas of comparative immunity. Those few areas are either thinly populated or known far and wide for prompt administration of justice and severe sentences for serious crimes.

It is never too early to start the attack on crime. Those agencies which seek to replace gang temptations with healthful recreation and the inculcation of worthy ideals are performing work which will be reflected in the next generation. The saving of every potential criminal means a saving in manhood, property and taxes. It is a saving which cannot easily be reckoned in dollars and cents because there is no way of telling what crimes would have been committed by boys who have been given proper environment and play. The figures of the Identification Bureau can do no more than demonstrate a situation to which the entire public should awaken.

LEADS IN INCOMES
Figures which emphasize once more the advantages of residence in California are given by the National Bureau of Economic Research, New York, and set forth the average incomes in the various sections of the United States. California is well in the lead.

The country over, the average income is $627, a figure exceeded in the North Central, Eastern and Pacific States. It is to be noted that the average in the Pacific States is $706, that of the Eastern States, $783, and that of the North Central States, $684. Certain Southern and New England states fell below the average.

The highest average income of farmers is found in California with $3,485. In Illinois the figure is $2,657; Ohio, $1,819; Indiana, $1,834; Wisconsin, $1,863.

In this record is to be found answer to those agencies in certain Eastern and Middle Western centers which have been seeking to discourage settlement in this state. These efforts, made to discourage a western movement of population, have not been able to stop the steady gains in California population, but have been none the less persistent. In the income figures is proof of this state's supremacy for homes, business and agriculture. They should be given place in the literature which tells the state's story.

These accounts of new motorless aircraft which the manipulator goes up in and stays up for more than three hours are lacking in details. The detail that is widely desired is how they do it. If such airplanes can be taken into space without the usual propelling machinery, and kept there as reported, it would seem that the principle upon which it is done could be applied to craft which goes aloft under propulsion, and the same kept up in the emergency of the propelling mechanism going wrong. If this can be done the aviation ship may be saved from falling with a smash, as some of them do.

A MELANCHOLY EXIT
The Virginian is dead! Worse still, the hero of Owen Wister's novel of Wyoming life passed out while drinking an ice cream soda. His was an inappropriate ending for a so brave, chivalrous, and merry-hearted hero who had played a picturesque part on the Wyoming stage in the days when red liquor reared and the bad men contested boldly against the powers of civility and law. If the Fates had been kind as he was kind the Virginian would have been permitted to depart with a smile somewhere back of Medicine Butte, bleeding from many wounds incurred in bawling some defenceless child or woman safe through fearful trials.
Yet the sad fact is that Edwin B. Trafton, Owen Wister's model plainsman, bit the dust in an ice cream parlor. How deadly many of these sweetish concoctions are to strong and simple men! Women and youths appear to thrive on them, but lusty men reared on stronger liquors often fall into acute indigestion after guzzling lemon sour and chocolate sundaes. Well, the Virginian's gone and not even Trampas would deny that he deserved a better death. There is only one consolation for the old timers in this melancholy incident. The Virginian died with his boots on.—New York Post.

Tuesday, August 29.
Primary Election day. . . . The polls close at 7 o'clock tonight, so if you have not voted, let the kids look at the funnies and run out to the booth. . . . The moon is in the first quarter. . . . Like this () . . . John Locke was born in 1632. . . . Edmund Hoyle died in 1769. . . . He laughs best who laughs after the votes are counted. . . . The frost, it is to be hoped, will be on the peanuts. . . . This is another Contributor's Day.

The Parasol Hat.
The parasol hat is the latest. They sport on the shoes of the sea. Since the postage stamp suit, it's the greatest. Most chic and most striking decree. Dame Fashion has voiced. Its protection. Insurance against sunburn; its shade. Preserves the most shell-like complexion. That rouge or Creator has made. It's a silk-covered, gorgeous contraption; It tempts you to rubber band and stare. And think of some gosh-awful caption. Like "Beware of the Things Women Wear." When you see it, it fills you with wonder; You're moved to consider the way. The fashions, by guess and by blunder. Have traveled since grandmother's day. You know, as you gaze at some daughter. Of Eve, as she strolls on the sand. That her suit was not made for the water. But was meant to be gazed at on land. And now that she's carefully shaded, Lest her peachlike complexion be marred, You see, where her beauty's garaged. That water and sun are both barred. —O. O. O.

By this time the issues have been presented, a good many of the voters have cast their ballots and but an hour or two remains before the closing of the polls. We are glad to see a candidate at 6 o'clock of the afternoon of election day. About that time, we are certain, we would think of no end of clever speeches we should have made and which might have won hundreds of votes.

The whole campaign, a thing which had been intricate and puzzling, would become simple and we could find ourselves the master of the keys. The way to certain victory would be there upon our table as plain as the spot we burned with a candidate's cigar. All of this would come to us at 6 o'clock on the evening of election day. It would be too late to do a thing. In an hour the polls will close and that hour, if we were a candidate, would drag into eternity.

Answer's "Why" Oakland.
Sir: Your poet sings "I wonder where the perfume of the rose, the golden sound of music goes?"

But wherefore must we think, always, in terms of death to everything, or even of repeated "new creations"? Why not see the eternal RECURRENCE which is actual fact? Existence, and manifestation, are in an alternating series. Light—with due periods of darkness. Then light again. Warmth—given—then cold—then warmth again. Why say, as materialists, "Life ends, is finished, even as a blown flame"? Why conceive even the flame as ended, and presently a new flame created? Being a flame is eternal—that is, while exist the conditions that make flame possible. Flame and non-flame alternate, but in a sense the new flame presently, is the same flame again. The perfume of the roses has its manifestation periodically interrupted, just as the light of day in any one location is periodically interrupted. But sunshine recurs. The golden sound of Music is an eternal thing. It chooses to think of it in that way. When are interrupted the conditions that make possible the music, there is a disruption in the current of melody; sound lapses into silence. But sound bides its time. When its conditions are fulfilled, sweet sound again flows on. So, too, "Our little life is rounded with sleep." But the sleeping and the awakening of consciousness are but two phases of the same thing. Very old doctrines declare that when a world seems "new created out of the void," it has but exchanged its regularly recurring "night" for its renewed "day" of existence. It is unwise to understand this paradox of the briefest may be the longest, like the Thoughts of Youth. For if we want a sound and deep-going philosophy, it is important for us to practice thinking of things in their eternal aspect; to realize that the perfume of the rose perisheth not. —M. C. X.

The Toonerville Trolley.
Sir: Until now we have kept our peace but when another motor car dared to try conclusions with the Red Toonerville we must take the over-present Remington in hand to protest.
If these motorists do not desist from this nefarious practice of attempting and succeeding in destroying our cars what will the customers of the next generation do to sit in while they wait for the bridge to close? W. S.

PLEA OF THE SEQUIAS

By Phyllis Noyes Van Slyk

All through the ages we have stood Sovereign and royal—and our wood, Bearing the furrowed ruts of bitter tears— Carved by the winds all through the years. Now hears the moan of desolation and despair, Feels ruthless hands that despoil the earth, At death of those who on her breast had birth. The hand that fashioned thee and thine That hand created me and mine Ten thousand years ago—but now, It is to younger kings we bow. We plead the right to die and as of old, Descend to rest into the earth's soft hold, Be lulled to sleep with wind borne bars, Of melody—and mourned by ageless stars Descend in swelling diapasons of the trees around And wrapped in humid incense from the ground, Ah! To live until our thread of life is loosed! We shall we plead until of speech bereft— Our tongues shall cease to cease to sing the song sublime Heard in the Redwood forests since the dawn of time. Woe to him who hurls the mighty down, And desecrates their age-old wind blown crown! Oh man! be kind and heed the Like kings we live—and like kings let us die!

about YOUR HEALTH

Why You Should Consider a Headache as a Warning

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D. Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Enthroned in its bony temple, the skull, the brain presides over the nervous system. Through the many branches of this system every part of the body is reached and controlled. Exactly as a train dispatcher sits in his office, directing all the traffic movements of a great railroad, so the brain is the administrator of the complicated nerve lines running from scalp to toe, from heart to finger-tips. Not only is the brain sheltered by the skull, it has also, for protection against jolt or jar, its coverings called "meninges." The brain and meninges are richly supplied with blood vessels, and, in normal conditions, life runs on with no consciousness on our part of the activities of this, our most important organ.

The first warning of anything wrong inside the skull is a headache.

There are many varieties and many causes of headaches. The first variety of which mention will be made is the congestive headache.

When your head feels swollen and the pulsing of a throbbing or bursting nature you have a congestive headache. Your face may be red. Your eyes may be congested. Every step or jar hurts your head. Bright lights and noises increase the agony, and life seems not worth living.

Usually this headache indicates nothing more than some irregularity of habits, over-exposure to the sun, or indiscretions in eating or drinking. Full-blooded persons, or those having high blood-pressure, and women, with their complex nervous systems, are most frequently affected.

Nervous headaches, so-called, are the headaches resulting from mental fatigue, worry, loss of sleep or over-excitement.

You all are undoubtedly familiar with the gastric headache, or sick headache, which usually is the direct result of improper eating and drinking, with the accompanying absorption of poisons not properly eliminated from the body.

Headache is a common accompaniment of constipation, either through over-use of the eyes or because of the need of glasses.

Any one of these forms of headache may be periodic, coming on every Sunday, once a month or at other regular intervals.

Pain of any description is Nature's warning that something is wrong. A physical indiscretion of any sort may cause a single headache, but it may also be a warning of a more serious condition.

Repeated, may be disregarded, but frequent headaches, even if not severe, should be made the occasion for a physical survey. They may indicate serious impairment of health, even kidney disease or brain disturbance.

THE FORUM

A SORRY "JOKE"

To the Editor of The Tribune: Last evening on one of our streets a beautiful young girl on her way to visit some friends was run down and left unconscious by an automobile full of young fellows who came zig-zagging and shouting up the street. They called out to her and swerved to the wrong side of the street and struck her down as she was about to cross. Doubtless they thought it a "practical joke," and possibly they are still guffawing at their cleverness in speeding away, leaving her unconscious, bruised and bleeding from an injury to the lungs.

This atrocious deed has been reported in your paper, but my object in writing is to call attention to the fact that this kind of "practical joke" is by no means uncommon in our city, and I know of several whose lives have been endangered by just such machine loads of noisy young men, who think it funny to swerve suddenly at a crossing and point their machine directly at the pedestrian about to cross. I have heard their merry laugh myself when an accident was averted by a hair's breadth. However, it has happened once too often and I hope the police may be guided in their investigations to those responsible for last night's horror.

WILLIAM PENN SMOKED.

William Penn smoked, with the women. He smoked with them right out in public. In fact, they took puffs from the same pipe. Twice at least did this happen. But it was a pipe pipe! A Calumet which he smoked with the big chiefs and the braves and the squaws of the tribes that were sailing him land.

He made a fine trade for a first-class piece of land, paying for it in part with 300 tobacco pipes, 100 bands of tobacco and 20 tobacco boxes.—Detroit News.

TAKING CHANCES.

D'Annunzio, melodramatic Italian poet, is seriously injured in the head by falling only seven feet out of a window.

You recall how he repeatedly risked his life in airplane and battle, only to come to disaster by a simple fall, and you think, "This shows the power of chance—luck."

There is no chance or luck about it in danger. D'Annunzio was cautious. He meets his accident when off his guard. Personal caution is the best safety first. Accidents come when it is laid aside.

BOY SCOUTS' DRIVE IS IN FULL SWING

Campaign Starts With Encouraging Contributions;
Due to Surpass $25,000
Mark Now Set, Is Claim

The campaign by the Boy Scouts to raise $25,000 is in full swing today, with the prospects bright that the quota soon will be reached and possibly surpassed.

The campaign opened yesterday with a luncheon at Hotel Oakland, where it was announced that $6234 of the $25,000 quota had already been subscribed. Of this total $3310 came from the central committee and the remainder from the 200 men on the teams. The actual solicitation of funds from the public began following this luncheon.

LEACH SPEAKS.
Abe P. Leach, president of the Scouts and head of the drive committee, gave the address of the day, appearing in place of John A. Mc-Gregor of San Francisco, who at the last minute announced that he could not be present. Leach took "The Daily Good Turn" as his topic.

"Boy Scouts are beginning to learn the art of service at the age of 13 years," said Leach. Most of us learn about service much later in life. Business men now know that service comes first and profit second, but so far as I know the Boy Scouts are the only organization that brings this thought home at the most impressionable years.

LAUDS IDEALS.
"This is accomplished through the good turn a day, which is a fundamental part of Boy Scout work. The boy learns to think of some one besides himself and to prepare himself for greater service later."

Daily luncheons, with a different speaker each day, will be held during the drive, and at each gathering there will be reports of the progress made during the previous 24 hours.

U.C. Humor Needs Sky-high Label, Says Professor

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—Universities are not recognized as a joke
if it is labeled in letters sky-high.
Thus does Miss Sara Hunstman, assistant professor of public speaking at the University, director of last spring's "Par-thenia," answer an editorial in yesterday's "Daily Californian" charging that she barred students from her classes because they were not "good-looking."

According to Editor Robert B.
Coons Miss Hunstman would teach only Apollos and Venuses.
"Anyone knows that good looks are as valuable to a public speaker as a good voice," says Miss Hunstman. "I have stressed this fact in my classes but I have not made physical attainments the sole qualifications for enrollment. When I looked students over a good voice and 'You're pretty good looking, you'll do' or 'I don't like your looks, out you go' I made my remarks with a twinkle in my eye. Students were perhaps too busy to notice the twinkle, but I had intended to be facetious but I see I have failed as a humorist and am being taken seriously."

Of 50 students seeking work which will prepare them as public speakers, only eight were turned away, says Miss Hunst-man, and these, she avers, purely for academic reasons.

Editor Coons of the college publication takes a different view of Miss Hunstman's remarks, however, and charges that the college instructor with being "undemocratic."

BUSINESS WOMEN INSTITUTE CLUB

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—With representatives from practically every branch of woman's work present, the Berkeley Business and Professional Women's Club held its first social gathering last night in the form of a dinner and program at the Y. M. C. A. ball room, 1222 graph avenue and Bancroft way.

Mrs. C. R. Kelly, president of the club, opened the dinner program and turned the meeting over to Miss Edna Jacobs as general chairman. Miss Jacobs was assisted by Mrs. Laura B. Durgin as program chairman and Mrs. Daniel Rysel in charge of the reception committee.

Almost 100 covers were laid for the dinner, the club's charter membership being closed at 113 names.
Other new members are being registered. Last night's program opened with community singing, led by Miss Elizabeth De Lancey, a teacher of singing, with Miss Clela Paron, nature study supervisor in the public schools, as accompanist. Stories, songs and three-minute talks featuring the various business and professional callings made up the program.

Following are those who participated in the program: Mrs. C. R.
Kelly, greetings; Mrs. Minnie R.
Churchill, vice-president of the club, humorous stories; Mrs. Markberryman, office manager of Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, greetings; Miss Lena Holly, secretary of St. John's Church, representing the profession of secretary; Mrs.

MAN STUDIES ENGLISH AND LEARNS LOVE

"Yes" is the most important word in the English language.

If you doubt ask Joseph Garaccio, 21, of San Jose who has just engaged a life-teacher in the person of Miss Alma Richards, 29, instructor in English in the San Jose night school, who responded affirmatively to the age-old question propounded by Garaccio.
The story of how Cupid strayed into the English class conducted by Miss Richards and singled out her and Garaccio, who is a canner hand by day and an English student at night, has just been disclosed through the marriage of the pair in Santa Cruz.

Quite recently Garaccio arrived here from Italy. He secured employment at Biscaglia Brothers' cannery where he receives twenty-five cents an hour for his toil.
Garaccio incidentally enrolled as a scholar in Miss Richards' class.

KEPT AFTER SCHOOL.
Several weeks ago other instructors at the high school noticed that Garaccio was being "kept" after school. Miss Richards told her colleagues that he was anxious to learn and she was helping him to master the intricacies of things English.

How Garaccio incidentally mastered the art of making love must go unwritten for Mrs. Garaccio is guarding the secret jealously just as she guarded the secret of her marriage in Santa Cruz for three weeks and kept the tidings from even her immediate family.
Prior to her elopement Mrs. Garaccio owned $225 a month from her teaching profession having been attached to both the day and night departments of the San Jose high school.

MORE BAD CHECKS LAID TO 'AUTHOR'

BERKELEY, Aug. 29.—More bad checks credited to Adolph De Berg, self-styled short story writer and college "love pirate," who is being sought by the police for leaving a long trail of worthless paper in Berkeley, were discovered today by the college city authorities.

C. F. Moon, 2333 Telegraph avenue, proprietor of a typewriter rental place, reports that Berg rented a typewriter ostensibly to turn out short stories and turned him a worthless check in payment.

RACY PRODUCTS REPRESENTED AT STOCKTON FAIR

Attractive Booth Creditably Portrays Possibilities of Rich District

TRACY, August 29.—The Tracy chamber of commerce is well satisfied with the attractive advertising of its exhibit booth at the Stockton county fair being held in Stockton, and the third prize which has been awarded it, being proud to stand next to Farmington and Lantana districts which have had irrigation much longer and therefore produce a much larger and finer variety of exhibits. A card in the Tracy booth reads: "Tracy district can produce anything found in the exhibit."

The Tracy exhibit booth is an artistic pictorial display of the Tracy district. In the foreground is a miniature irrigation system with electrical pumping plant raising water out of the inexhaustible San Joaquin river. A modern dairy plant is shown. Back of this is a mass display of fruits, vegetables and grains arranged in rolling hills.

The "certificate of prosperity" which is being handed out to those who guess the total number of fruits in the whole exhibit is also attracting attention. There are between six and ten thousand individual pieces of fruit and vegetables in the exhibit and the one who guesses the closest will receive a prize of six boxes of fruit. The second prize is four boxes and the third prize is two boxes.

A meeting of the San Joaquin county development committee will take place in the county farm bureau center room under the grandstand at the San Joaquin county fair, on Wednesday afternoon, August 30, at 4 p. m. The meeting has been called by chairman L. L. Wilson of Tracy to discuss and plan for matters of general county development, and leaders in the county's advancement have displayed much interest in the event.

W. L. Douglas, secretary-manager of the fair, will be present to make proposals for the future fair plans. J. Willis Adair, county farm adviser, will address the members on certain farming problems and their solution by united action.

San Joaquin county development committee is composed of the president and secretary of all the development organizations in the county and representatives from each town in the county are expected to be present.

WATSONVILLE, Aug. 29.—Wilbur Green, for the past fourteen years manager of the hardware department of the Charles Ford company, has tendered his resignation and will leave here about September 15 to assume the management of the Barrett-Hicks Hardware Company, at Fresno.

Green was formerly connected with the Sweet Mercantile Company, of Fresno, before coming to Watsonville.

Green served one term on the Watsonville city council and is prominent in the Masonic bodies and other societies of the city.

Would Have Been in Grave Long Ago if Not for Fong Wan

ALVARADO, July 5, 1922. For years I had stomach trouble with gas which pressed on my heart with unbearable pains. I could not walk from one side of the table to the other without stopping to catch my breath. My stomach was so bloated that I could neither eat nor lie down with comfort. My back ached fearfully and it seemed as though I continually carried a heavy load on it. My bowels never moved naturally and I suffered also from female complaints.

I consulted many doctors. They said that mine was a surgical case and that a tumor must be removed before I could get any relief. I feared and dreaded an operation. My brother, John Lamas, and his friend, Mr. Fong Wan, both of whom had been cured of stomach trouble by the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST, advised me to try him. My brother took me down to his place at the corner of 8th and Clay Sts., Oakland. I took the herbs for four months, cooking them myself. I am now strong and well and feel splendid.

Had it not been for my brother's advice and FONG WAN'S skill, I should have been in my grave long ago.

Mrs. Julia Andrade, Box 13, Alvarado, Calif.

Notwithstanding the fact that her brother had been greatly benefited by the FONG WAN HERBS, Mrs. Julia Andrade had been encouraged repeatedly to continue with the treatment. After having tried the herbs for a number of months, she realized that her condition was somewhat improved, although she was skeptical and feared that she would never get well. She might have discontinued altogether and never have regained her health had she not met Mrs. Cook in the FONG WAN OFFICE.

Mrs. Cook told her that she had been cured with a painful growth in her side and that she had taken the FONG WAN HERBS for three months. It had disappeared. She also told her that her brother, Mr. McCraw, had but one leg, and that this leg was so crippled that he was confined to his bed for nearly a year. The doctors said they could do nothing for him unless he would consent to have his foot amputated.

Tried An Inexperienced Herbalist

He tried an inexperienced Chinese Herbalist for 8 weeks but the shooting pain continued day and night. Then Mr. McCraw's young son told him to try the FONG WAN HERBS. He tried the herbs for the Pacific Coast. After Mr. McCraw had drunk the first cup of Herb Tea prepared by FONG WAN, the pain grew less and he enjoyed the first night's sleep in months. He continued to take the treatment for about three months. His toes healed up completely and he grew stronger all over.

Upon hearing about these marvelous cures Mrs. Andrade was much encouraged and she decided to stick to the treatment, with the result that she also was entirely healed.

130 ENROLL AT WEST SIDE HIGH

TRACY, Aug. 29.—The West Side Union High School opened for the fall term yesterday with the largest enrollment in its history. Principal H. O. Williams says he expects the enrollment will total at least 130. Last year it was 107. There are 42 freshmen registered. All teachers reported for duty and the various classes were organized.

The first student body meeting of the year was held in the morning. Leland Tscherschky, the president, introduced the new principal, H. O. Williams, who in turn introduced each member of the faculty. George Lohren, president of the school board of trustees, who served on Tracy school boards for thirty years, reviewed the growth of Tracy schools from three pupils to their present size, approaching a thousand.

Yesterday afternoon a meeting of the Tracy Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday, September 5, instead of this week, on account of election day, conflicting. Preparations are being made for an interesting meeting.

Municipal Departments to Be Housed by New Structure

PITTSBURG, August 29.—Pittsburg's new $75,000 city hall will be ready for occupancy by October 15, according to an announcement by Cahill Brothers, the contractors. The new structure is being built of solid concrete with the inside stairways, corridors and vestibules finished in marble. The architectural design of the hall is conservative but imposing. Benjamin G. McDougall is the architect.

The hall occupies an entire block of ground between Ninth and Tenth streets and Railroad and Cumberland. Upon the completion of the building the grounds will be laid out by a landscape gardener to further the beauty of the civic center.

Besides the usual offices and rooms in city halls the new one in Pittsburg will house the fire apparatus and city jail in the basement with club rooms and a fully equipped gymnasium in connection. The third and fourth floors will be occupied by an auditorium which will have a seating capacity of 450. A stage and motion picture booth will be features of this room, which will be used principally for community gatherings.

The appropriation for this year was $143,800.11, leaving balance on hand of $40,788.92, which will be allowed on the budget for the present year. THREAT OF CITY CLEANUP REFERS TO NEW BROOMS

HAYWARD, Aug. 29.—From the lobby of the city offices a report emanated today to the effect that a clean-up will be waged here by Fred Schilling, city marshal, and his assistants.

The rumor, once started, spread rapidly. But one question failed of answer. No one knew what Schilling was going to clean up on. Hayward has been experiencing no wave of crime; in fact, there have been rather quiet in that line.

Just then Schilling was seen entering the offices of the street department of the city. A curious mob followed, just in time to hear him tell the street commissioner that a shipment of brooms had arrived and that the street force would be fully equipped before night. Schilling is also city superintendent of streets, but no one had thought of that.

SCHOOL LUNCHES TO BE EXTENDED

HAYWARD, Aug. 29.—A conference of the principals of the Hayward grammar schools, Miss Olive C. Shafer, of the Edison Township health center, and the milk committee of the Hayward Civic League of Women Voters, to arrange for a system of milk feeding to combat malnutrition in the schools will be held at four o'clock this afternoon. The Civic League, the agency supplying milk in the schools for malnourished children, will add the Orchard avenue and Pacific primary schools to the list served last year and may include the Hayward Health and Inspection schools, it was announced today by Mrs. L. M. Turner, president of the club.

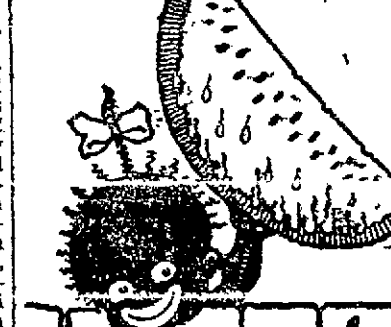

According to figures made public today by Mrs. Turner the club, during the past school year, provided 41,108 milk lunches, 1,000 of which were donated by the club to the children. The cost of the lunches during the year was $1565, of which $1234 was paid by the children. The league has a balance of $415 on hand by means of which the initial extension of the service to other schools will be made possible. Last year the lunches were served in the main school, on B street, and at the John Gamble school, where cases of malnutrition were most numerous and where a lack of milk in the homes of the children was most pronounced.

Miss Shafer is now making an examination of all pupils in the grammar school system, preparatory to waging an intensive campaign against malnutrition. Malnutrition, according to Miss Shafer, while in most cases existing among under-nourished children, is not always the result of a lack of food, but in many cases the lack of proper food. "We must not allow ourselves to believe," Miss Shafer said, "that malnutrition is found only among the poor. It is sometimes found in its most virulent forms among the children of the well to do. The condition is the result not only of the lack of food, but the lack of proper feeding and proper health measures."

FOREST FLAMES ON LOMA PRIETA BAFFLE RANGERS

Large Fighting Force Fails to Halt Mountain Fire
West of San Jose.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 29.—Threatening forest fires on the eastern and lower slopes of Loma Prieta, to the west of this city, continued to burn furiously this morning. With a large crew of fire fighters headed by Fire Ranger A. H. Oswald battling in an effort to check their progress. Reports to Sheriff George W. Lyle today indicate that there was some danger of the flames igniting the large McKenzie gas well in the mountain region.

The fires started early Sunday morning, but gained their greatest strength yesterday afternoon and last night. The glare of the flames was plainly visible against the western skies last night, attracting thousands of motorists to the western highways of the valley.

Today the skies were darkened by the thick pall of smoke that overhung the valley.

One of the fires, it is stated, started some three weeks ago, burning intermittently, with rangers unable to check it completely. While it was believed under control, this fire broke out with renewed fury Sunday afternoon.

Reports this morning are that buildings were destroyed on the Walker ranch and that the grounds of the Mountain Home, a summer resort on the Llanos creek, were charred by the flames yesterday afternoon. The "buildings" there were saved only after extreme difficulty, it was said. The fire is also said to have imperiled the Woodlands and Lorgan ranches.

Officials of the San Jose Water company, the water sheds of which had been reported endangered, declared today that these reports are entirely erroneous. The flames being nowhere near the water sheds.

SAN JOSE VOTERS FLOCK TO BOOTHS

SAN JOSE, Aug. 29.—San Joseans flocked to the polls today in numbers which assured victory for a record primary vote, according to County Registrar Frank Hogan and others connected with the election.

At the noon-hour Hogan declared that the vote had been "larger than anticipated." With a 5 o'clock rush anticipated on the part of the working people the vote was expected to reach 60 percent. A total registration of 40,825 voters is on the books.

Everywhere throughout the city and country election workers were busy for their candidates, with automobiles rushing here and there carrying men and women to the polls. GROWERS FACE LOSS FROM FIRE

SAN JOSE, Aug. 29.—Members of the growers of the Salinas valley, in the vicinity of Watsonville, today are faced by heavy losses as the result of a fire in a large shock mill in the Santa Cruz mountains, coupled with existing railroad troubles.

The shock mill situated near Loma Prieta, was one of the largest in this section of the state and was completely destroyed early Sunday afternoon, according to the information received here. The mill had been furnishing box wood for virtually all boxes being used by the Salinas valley apple growers and with this supply cut off, together with inability to bring other box wood in due to the rail strike, the growers have been left helpless.

Apple pickers have been laid off, it is said, and great quantities of the fruit are rotting on the ground.

Wire Held Effective in Pruning Trees
SUNNYVALE, Aug. 29.—Experiments being carried on here in regard to the pruning of orchard trees demonstrated that the pruning of orchard trees by wiring was just as effective as by using wooden props. Not only is the wire just as effective but the cost is only a small fraction of that for wooden props. Wire bracing can be done at any season of the year and the braces do not interfere with tillage of the soil and they are not affected by irrigation.

AUTO COLLISION AT STREET TURN IMPERILS MANY

Machines Smashed and Electroliners Snapped Off in San Jose Mishap.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 29.—Several people had narrow escapes from serious injury in a spectacular automobile accident at the corner of First and St. James streets, near the heart of the business district, here, last night.

An automobile owned and driven by Max Blum, 26 South Fifth street, one of the city's most prominent merchants, driving west on St. James street, collided almost head-on with a Black and White taxi driven by A. R. Smith. So close was the impact of the collision that the front right wheel of Blum's car was broken completely off, the radiator smashed and the steering wheel broken, while the front of the taxi was caved in.

The taxi was sprung around in such a manner that it struck an electroliner, snapping it off at the back.

Witnesses declare that the taxi had right of way.

SAN JOSE, Aug. 29.—Members of the San Jose American Legion today still are wrestling vigorously with the housing problem for the convention period which opens here next Tuesday, at which time more than 5000 Legion members and their friends are expected here from all parts of California for the third annual state convocation of the ex-service men.

More than 1400 reservations for rooms have been made here to date, according to the housing committee, of which Edward F. Kelly is chairman. An appeal to residents of the community having spare rooms in their homes which might be utilized by convention delegates was issued today, it being desired that such residents get in touch with convention headquarters.

EUROPE MUST REFORM TO GET DEBT REDUCED

Lack of Stable Economic Policy Declared Obstacle to Real Recovery

The potential burdens of the inter-governmental indebtedness have constituted one of the chief uncertainties of the European situation ever since conclusion of the Treaty of Versailles, according to the current issue of the Quarterly Survey, published by the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.

Until this financial uncertainty is removed, the Survey declares, there is small encouragement or prospect for governmental financial reforms on a far-reaching scale.

There have been frequent efforts in Europe to reach agreements regarding some of the inter-governmental debts, and the reparations debt actually has been funded in long-term bonds. These negotiations, however, have not sufficiently recognized two essentials: namely, the extent to which the debtors can pay or the creditors are willing to receive payments in goods and services, which is the only way payments can be transferred from one country to another, since gold is not available in sufficient quantity to be of material usefulness for this purpose.

As a consequence, the agreements must have not been fruitful of concrete or beneficial results.

The Congress of the United States, new about to enter on similar negotiations with our debtors, has appointed a Debt Funding Commission but has limited the scope of action of the Commission by laying down terms of settlement in advance of both investigation of the facts and negotiation of a funding scheme.

The economic difficulty in obtaining payment or reparations and other inter-governmental debts lies in the fact that transfer of funds from one country to another can now be made only through the medium of transfers of goods and services. So far, however, the foreign trade of most of the European countries is only a small fraction of their pre-war trade, and the trade balances, most of them being unfavorable to the debtors, are still fluctuating widely.

We can hardly expect, then, that any very serious efforts will be made except by Great Britain, to meet payments due this fall on the debt owed to the United States Government. On the other hand, efforts to devise a funding scheme on the basis of the terms laid down by Congress will be of doubtful efficacy; while establishing more lenient terms, as regards a further moratorium before beginning in earnest payments, would leave only the question where it is, containing the potential burden and its uncertainty.

It is desirable therefore, from purely business point of view, that this uncertainty about what may be the ultimate actual demand on European net national treasures should be removed at the earliest possible moment. It has been suggested that this can be done under present circumstances only by cancellation of certain inter-governmental debts by the creditor governments, leaving a comparatively small part of the reparations debt and a few of the lesser obligations covering transportation indirectly connected with the war.

Such a course would, under any conditions, have its drawbacks, and it would be quite useless, if it were pursued without obtaining sufficient guarantees and substantial evidence that the debtor governments of Europe would stop further inflation of their currencies and floating debts resulting from expenditures in excess of revenues and would undertake either to defray their foreign or better, to inaugurate a program of public improvements destined to build up their industry and trade.

There would really be little use in the remission of the debts due to us unless we could have some assurance that the remission would be accompanied by lasting financial reforms in Europe.

Women desiring to take up either or both courses are welcome, it is announced.

WITHDRAWAL OF CONTRACTORS IS DENIED BY BOARD

School Directors Decide to Call Halt on Overworked Privilege.

Taking the stand that a privilege has been overworked, the board of education last night refused to allow the Scott Company, winning contractors, to withdraw from the plumbing job at Golden Gate school. In the past several contractors have pleaded mistakes in figures and were allowed to withdraw. At last night's session it was agreed that these episodes have "been too frequent," in the words of Director J. F. Chandler.

The board of education also refused to take a stand for or against the proposed Amendment 2, coming up at the election. This amendment would give the mayor the authority to appoint the school board. Director Fred Campbell moved that the board "go on record as unalterably opposed to any such granting of power into the hands of one man."

WOULD AVOID POLITICS.
Director Daisy Short asserted that this amendment was not a matter for the board to discuss.

"There have been many allegations of politics in the school board," she said. "I would not be best to decide this as individuals."

There being no second to Campbell's motion, the matter was dropped.

The various contracts for the construction of Golden Gate school, amounting to about $100,000, were let as follows: General work, Alfred Olson, $66,538; lath and plaster, A. Knowles, $5,381; heat and vent, Scott Co., $11,568; plumbing work, Scott Co., $6,937; elec. work, Standard Elec. Constr. Co., $15,268; interior equip., Schnelby & Heston, $2,754.

The Scott Company sent a communication desiring to withdraw from the plumbing contract, on the ground that its figures were not correct and would entail a loss.

The winning bid was $69,777. The next lowest bid was C. B. Dole, at $82,775.

IS TOO FREQUENT.
"We do not wish to work a hardship on anyone," said Director Chandler. "But this idea of withdrawing is getting too frequent. In the past few weeks all sorts of contractors have asked to withdraw after their bids were submitted, and we let them do it. If we keep this up we will open the doors to all sorts of tricks."

After a discussion it was finally decided to draw a definite line. Bids tendered by a contractor will either be accepted or rejected, and the winning contractor must go through with the work.

Bank of Finland Position Stronger

There has been no important change in the financial situation as reflected either in the balance sheet of the Bank of Finland, in the balance sheets of private banks, or in exchange rates and prices. The position of the Bank of Finland was strengthened during July by an increase in the balances due from foreign correspondents, a decrease in the bill portfolio, and a decline in the note issue.

The position of the private banks at the end of May shows very little change as compared with the preceding month. The transactions of the clearing house in May amounted to 300 million marks, as against 287 million marks in April. The total internal debt of Finland at the end of May was 1,175.8 million marks, as against 1,199.8 million marks at the end of April, 1,242.2 million marks at the end of March, and 1,508.7 million marks at the beginning of 1921.

Chinese Sentenced On Dope Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—Lum Wing, 66 year-old flower vender, arrested several weeks ago as a narcotic pedler, pleaded guilty to two indictments, charging him with violating the Harrison Narcotic act in the Federal court this morning and was given jail sentence on both charges. The defendant was sentenced to six months in the county jail and $50 fine on one charge, and three months in the county jail and $1 fine on the other charge. According to Harry D. Smith, federal narcotic inspector, the Chinese while conducting his flower stand on Grant avenue in China Town, was at the same time, with the aid of an 11 year old Chinese boy, carrying on his illicit trade.

Movie Chief Here to Film S. F. Story

Lambert Hillyer, newly appointed director of the Overland Productions, the Oakland motion picture company, of which Cyrus Chapin is president, and which has taken over the Stewart Motion Picture Company's plant at Park boulevard and Twenty-eighth street, arrived today in Oakland. Hillyer's first task is to select locations for the forthcoming production of "Through Gates of Flame," a story of the San Francisco fire.

Hillyer has been directing pictures for eight years, and has been identified with "William Hart," Thomas H. Ince, and other producers.

Chile Complains of Improper Packing

Chilean importers prefer sheet iron containers for nuts, bolts and rivets, according to the Department of Commerce. They do not want shipments to come in wooden cases that break in handling. Europeans use the sheet iron containers and get the orders. One European firm recently got an order for fifteen tons of rivets by cable because American concerns were disregarding instructions to ship in double bags of heavy material which, while not as good as sheet iron kegs, are vastly better than wooden containers. On one shipment 80 per cent of the wooden kegs burst when they were let over the ship's side into lighters, the contents were scattered over the floor and had to be shoveled into bags and later sorted out by hand.

TOUR COMMITTEE TO MAKE VISIT AS PRELIMINARY

C. C. Boosters to Go to Sacramento to Plan For October Excursion.

In preparation for the "get acquainted" excursion through the Sacramento valley four members of the Chamber of Commerce committee will make a preliminary visit to that section of the state within the next comparatively few days.

The excursion, which will be the second big trip of the year for members of the Chamber of Commerce, will leave Oakland either on October 3 or October 10, and will consume five days. The party will travel on a special train and will live in the cars throughout the journey.

As now planned the Oakland boosters will stop in nearly fifteen Northern California towns, including Sacramento, Marysville, Chico, Redding, Red Bluff and Woodland. Sacramento will be the first stop. The party will leave here early enough in the morning to be in the capital for luncheon on the first day.

The special committee which is to make the preliminary visit will be made up as follows: William H. Mayhew, general chairman; Max Greenberg, Martin H. Hoffman and C. W. Foy. These men will travel by automobile, leaving here on or about September 11, and will be gone four days.

All THE "MEAT" YOU NEED

Deviled Eggs: Six hard-boiled eggs; 2 tablespoons butter; 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard or 2 teaspoons prepared French mustard; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1 cup tomato sauce or strained tomato. Remove shell and cut eggs in half lengthwise. Cover serving dish with triangles of toast or bread that has been spread with deviled ham. Arrange egg on toast. Set in moderate oven with door open to keep warm while preparing sauce. Melt butter, add mustard, salt, tomato sauce and Worcestershire. Heat and pour over toast and set poached eggs on top.

Spanish Eggs: One-half onion; 2 tablespoons butter; 1 cup chili sauce; 1/2 teaspoon salt. Melt butter, add onion sliced very thin. Cook until a golden brown; add chili sauce and salt. Set aside to simmer while preparing eggs. Poach as many eggs as desired. Place rounds of buttered toast on serving plate; pour Spanish sauce over toast and set poached eggs on top.

Savory Timbales: Melt 2 tablespoons butter in sauce pan; add 1 1/2 cups milk; 1/4 cup soft bread crumbs; 2 tablespoons shredded green pepper; 2 teaspoon grated onion. Beat 4 eggs, add 1/4 teaspoon salt and the hot mixture. Pour into buttered custard cups; set in pan of hot water; bake in moderate oven until firm, about 30 minutes. Unmold and serve with tomato sauce.

Scott's Woodcock: One cup well-seasoned medium white sauce; to this add 2 tablespoons essence of anchovies or anchovy paste, and 4 hard-boiled eggs cut into quarters. Put over heat.

Eggs Baked in Potato Casserole: Bake medium-sized potatoes. When cooked split down the center lengthwise and remove pulp. Beat until creamy or press through potato ricer; season with salt, pepper and butter, adding a little milk or moister. Break an egg in each potato case, then heap mashed potato mixture on top, either with a spoon or force through a pastry bag. Bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

Eggs a la King: Six hard-boiled eggs; 1/2 cup finely minced chicken or ham; 1/4 cup medium white sauce; 2 tablespoons shredded green pepper; 2 tablespoons shredded pimiento. Prepare the white sauce; to this add pimiento and green pepper; cut eggs in half lengthwise, remove yolk; mash, season and add minced chicken; refill the egg white, piling the mixture high. The mixture can be easily forced through a pastry bag. Place stuffed eggs on platter and pour the hot sauce over them. Or hard-boiled eggs may be sliced and arranged on platter. Add chicken to sauce and pour over eggs. Serve at once.

Eggs au Gratin: Six hard-boiled eggs; 1 cup white sauce; 1/4 cup grated cheese; 1/2 cup dry bread crumbs; 1 tablespoon butter or substitute. Remove shells from eggs and cut into slices crosswise. Prepare the white sauce. Butter baking dish and arrange a layer of eggs first, then a layer of white sauce, then a layer of cheese. Continue in layers until all ingredients are used. Melt butter, add crumbs and spread over the top. Set in moderate oven to bake.

DUFFY LEWIS IS CROWDING STRAND FOR HITTING CROWN

NINETEEN BALL GAMES ON OAKLAND AND TRANSBAY LOTS FOR P. C. L. FANS DURING WEEK

BEE LEADER MAKES GAIN ON STRAND IN P. C. L. BATTING RACE

In Spite of Long Rest, Claude Cooper Continues to be in Front For Stealing Bases.

Another week has been erased off the Coast League schedule and Paul Strand, the Salt Lake first-sacker, continues to lead the batters with the high average of .399, one point better than last week. Paul would like to finish the season with a higher mark than did his manager last season. Lewis played in 105 games last year and finished with .403. Paul's mark of .399 is considered just as high as Lewis' of last season for the reason that he has played in at least twenty-five games more. Paul will be satisfied to finish as the leading hitter of the league, but just the same he would like to also finish over the .400 mark. Duffy Lewis is giving his help a hard fight for the batting and added eight points to lift him up to .382. Few changes resulted last week in the positions of the batters, and only a couple of the top-notchers lost points. Sammy Hays of Portland held second place which is now filled by Duffy Lewis, and still he added a few points.

"Red" Smith of the Vernon Tigers remained at the same place he was this time last week, but he is lucky that Jimmy O'Connell of the Seals did not pass him, as Jimmy had a high mark at Salt Lake and added eleven points to pass several of the other boys. Among O'Connell's hits were five home runs, two triples and a double. Bert Ellison also of the Seals got five home runs at Salt Lake.

Lafayette continues to lead the Oakland Athletics with 320 and the next best is Danny Willis who is clicking the apple at .354. Cooper and Ivan Howard are the only others of the local club listed over the .300 mark.

Billy Lane of Seattle is far out in front in run scoring with 122. Jim Poole of the Beavers and Willie Kamm of the Seals have each hit forty-five doubles, while Brown and Cooper of the Oaks have each hit twelve triples, and Paul Strand of the Seals leads in homers with twenty-one. Schick, Poole and Charley High have each hit nineteen.

Jimmy McCauley of the Angeles is giving McCann of the Beavers a close fight for the sacrifice honors with thirty-eight, only one behind McCann. In spite of the long layoff due to a broken hand, Claude Cooper of the Oaks is leading in base stealing with thirty-nine. Billy Lane is next with thirty-three.

Jakie May of Vernon Has 24 Victories

Jim Scott of Seals and Arlett of Oaks Show Good Records.

Jim Scott of the San Francisco Seals tops the Coast League pitchers with twenty wins and six defeats, but Jakie May of Vernon Tigers is giving the fans something to talk about by having twenty-four wins marked after his game. The little southpaw promises to break the record of wins for a pitcher in the league. He has lost but eight games. Oliver Mitchell of the Seals is also high up in the records. "Buz" Arlett turned in his twelfth win for the Oaks in his twelfth game. The big fellow was suffering with a sore arm, contracted while serving his suspension. Otherwise he might be right up there with Jakie May.

Twenty games to twirling great ball for the Oaks, if you will take notice of his record. Harry has won seventeen games and lost fourteen, making thirty-one. He has twirled thirty-three games.

FOUR DAYS LEFT IN WHICH TO ENTER TRIBUNE MARATHON

JIMMY DUFFY AND GENE CLINE ARE READY FOR MAIN BOUT AT AUDITORIUM TOMORROW

SHORT TIME IS LEFT TO FILE ENTRIES FOR MERRITT RACE

Out of County Organizations Have Fine Chance to Win Team Prize with Few Starters

By DOUG. MONTELL.

Only four days remain for runners of the Eastbay to file their entry blanks for the Tenth Annual TRIBUNE Lake Merritt Marathon. Entries will positively close the evening of Saturday, September 2, and there are many runners known to be in training for the race who have not as yet officially filled out their entry blank. It may be that some of the runners have become confused on this point, thinking that inasmuch as the race is not being conducted under the auspices of the P. A. this year that there is no need to fill out an entry blank. This is a mistaken impression, for it is necessary for us to have the entries of all who intend to run on the morning of Admission Day on hand a week ahead of time in order to complete the official lists, check up on unattached runners and figure out many of the details necessary for the conduct of the race.

The Oakland Y. M. C. A. team, consisting of twenty men, has been running over the Lake Merritt course every evening for the past two weeks, yet have not officially entered. Harry Hooker, Percy Gilbert, Rutherford and the others who were in last year's race are training faithfully and undoubtedly Glen Williams, who is in charge of the Oakland Y. team, has held up the entries of his men to send them in as a last minute surprise.

Few Runners Have Come From S. F.

This is a habit that many of the coaches have drifted into for the past several years and one which makes it difficult to figure on the exact or approximate number who will start in the race. Independent and unattached runners file their blanks early but the members of the various club and organization teams hold off until the last minute before filing their entry. The last minute rush is about due to start and with the entry list well into the seventies there is every reason to believe that the final count will see the list well over the 100 mark, a far greater number than were officially entered in the race last year at the same time.

There has been a surprising lack of runners from out of town, no out of town organization having more than one entry on hand at the present writing. At this rate it is not going to be difficult to determine here the prize for the out of town organization having the largest number of starters will go.

Crockett High has lead for One Prize. G. Gadsby is entered from out of the county but to running untied from Richmond so that he will not figure for the team prize that is to go to the out of the county organization having the largest number of starters.

Therefore the only out of the county organization to be represented by a runner in the Tenth Annual TRIBUNE Lake Merritt Marathon thus far is Crockett High school, the entry of W. Wyman of that institution being filed last week.

It would be an excellent opportunity for some out of Alameda county organization to be holding back a block of ten or so entries to file at the last minute and there will undoubtedly be a late rush started for this purpose. Entries to be watched carefully for entries within the next few days while the San Francisco's runners to date delinquent in filing entry blanks for the race, will flock in before Saturday night.

S. F. "Y" is to Be Watched.

Dundee Wins Decision Over Pepper Martin

Veteran Lightweight Defends Title Against Brooklyn Challenger.

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Johnny Dundee, veteran Italian pugilist, successfully defended his "world's junior lightweight" title tonight, receiving the judges' decision after a 15-round contest with Vincent "Pepper" Martin, of Brooklyn.

Martin was a willing enough fighter but he was no match for Dundee's experience. The Italian was fast and he attacked the Brooklyn boy's head and body as he pleased. Dundee was never in danger.

Dundee entertained the crowd in the early rounds with his famous habit of bounding off the ropes and coming at his opponent with head down and fists flying. Invariably these tactics fooled Martin and he responded to punching exchanges in which he was worsted. Martin weighed 120 pounds and Dundee 114 1/2.

In the first round Dundee sent Martin to his knees with a sharp left to the chin. Martin was not left to the chin. Martin was wild and missed often as the speedy Italian danced about him, rushing him to the ropes time and again. They were in a series of vicious exchanges in the second. Dundee landing clean and often. They both jumped and danced in the third, exchanging heavy punches to the jaw.

The fourth was another series of hard exchanges. Martin holding his own in the punching. He was made to miss often, however, by the wild Italian. Martin adopted the Dundee jumping and dodging tactics in the fifth and clipped Dundee with hard lefts to the chin several times. Martin shook the Italian in the sixth with hard rights to the body.

They slowed down in the seventh and after Martin had shaken Dundee with a right uppercut, the Italian launched a two-handed assault to the head. Dundee started a punching attack in the eighth and Martin responded willingly. It was about an even exchange. There was little heavy action in the ninth.

Dundee punched Martin at will in the tenth after bringing blood from his nose with a straight right. Martin attacked Dundee cautiously in the eleventh and Dundee answered with a shower of rights and lefts to the jaw and body. The twelfth was slow and uninteresting, with Martin always on the defensive.

Martin came out full of fight in the thirteenth but Dundee put him on the defensive again with a sharp left to the chin that sent him to the ropes. Dundee pummeled Martin all about the ring in the fourteenth. Martin fought like a tiger in the 15th, but was worsted in the heavy 16th round.

Dundee's victory was a surprise to many. He is a former champion of the world and has won many titles. He is now a professional boxer and is expected to make a better showing.

Sid Snow to Cavort on the St. Mary's Team

Return of African Hunter Will Aid Madigan's Eleven For Grid Season.

When "Slip" Madigan stands forth his Saints on October 14th to meet Andy Smith's Bruins, the Oaklanders will have one man on their squad who will not shrink from the attack of the ferocious California Bears, for lions and charging, long-tusked elephants, giant hippos and terrible tigers mean nothing in this player's young life. In brief, Sid Snow, wild animal hunter and foot-baller of no mean ability, is back at St. Mary's and as a consequence thereof there is a good deal of rejoicing around the Broadway campus.

Snow played guard on the 1919 varsity at St. Mary's the last year that Russ Wilson had the team, and although he was a convert from rugby, he showed enough to warrant promise in succeeding seasons. However, in December of 1919 Snow left St. Mary's and sailed for South Africa to canvas for the now famous Snow expedition.

Two years in Africa have added greatly to Snow's speed and his skill, so that today he tips the scales around 200 pounds. As all this weight appears to be solid Snow should weigh around the 200 mark, a rather nice bet for a lineman. Cutting and marking are his specialties. He has kept Snow from turning out for his practice last season, but he has been busy with Madigan's notes all summer and accordingly has somewhat of an insight into the workings of the Notre Dame system.

Madigan's position will be a constant foe to a question for Madigan switches men around to suit the need of the team but those who know of Snow's speed and his ability to smash up interference are predicting that the Saints' coach will have him trying out for one of the back field players.

Snow is also a catcher, having been first string receiver for the 1919 St. Mary's Phoenix, and with Beall, last year's catcher, he will give the Saints a rather neat set of receivers. So all in all, Snow is quite an athletic catch for the Oaklanders and he will be sure to make someone's life for a regular berth on this season's eleven.

GOLF FACTS worth knowing

by INNIS BROWN

Q. Is it permissible to remove a club or to hit the ball in front of a hole when the hole is in the rough?
A. Loose impediments can be moved in the rough under the same rule that permits the removal of such in the fairway. That is, if the hole is in the rough, it is within a club length of the ball, and is not fixed or growing.

Q. On one hole of a course on which I sometimes play a public road crosses the fairway. In a recent match my opponent's ball stopped in this roadway but before I got to this ball my automobile passed and knocked the ball out onto the turf. He played it from the turf. What is the rule covering such a case?

A. He lost the hole. A ball displaced by any agency other than a player or his caddy is a lost ball. A match must be dropped as nearly as can be determined to where it lay.

Q. Just how far can a player go in making ready to play a stroke if he is penalized if the ball happens to move before he actually tees off?
A. Through the fairway or on the putting green, he is charged with a stroke if the ball moves after he has taken his stance and grounded his club. However, if he has previously moved anything within a club length of the ball through the fairway or on the putting green, he is charged with a stroke.

A. No. There is no penalty for grounding a club on the side of a trap covered with grass. A player is charged with a stroke if he strikes his ball on the tee and almost misses it, merely moving it a few inches, can he tee it up again without penalty?

A. Certainly not. The ball is in play as soon as he makes a stroke, and must not be touched except as specifically provided by the rules.

Johnny Cline

Four-round boxer who will meet Joe Azevedo in one of the main bouts at the Oakland auditorium tomorrow night. Johnny met Joe once before and Joe made him see the twinkling stars in "Dreamland," but Johnny says it will be a different story after tomorrow night.

Southampton, N. Y., Aug. 29.—The game presented by Guilford and Outimet in defeating Tolley and Darwin here yesterday bordered on the marvelous. At all times brilliant, the American pair pulled a number of breath-taking shots that offset the steady, accurate play of the Englishmen. In the afternoon round the Americans went out in 34, three under par. They had five birdies in 11 holes.

Guilford sank 25-foot putts for two of the birdies and Outimet accounted for the others with pitch shots dead to the pin. Darwin, substituting for Captain Robert Harris, who withdrew from the play because of illness, was best with his irons, but these shots were offset by his poor putting.

John was best of the four at driving. His drives in the morning round were always 20 to 40 yards longer than those of Outimet, who drove with him. Although Outimet's afternoon shots for the most part were on a par with those of Tolley, Guilford always was ahead of Darwin.

Guilford and Outimet finished the morning round one down, squared at the tenth hole in the afternoon. The lead on the twelfth and were never headed thereafter.

The defeat of Evans and Gardner, both former national champions, was the surprise of the day. They were behind all the way. Aymar outdove Gardner and his afternoon shots were deadly. He sank a 40-foot putt to halve one hole. Evans, usually so accurate with his irons, hooked his own, his game being about on a par with that of Evans. The Americans had a medal of 82 for the morning round, while the Englishmen had 78. Evans and Gardner were three down at the turn in the morning. They cut the English players' lead to one at the sixteenth hole. Evans had approach shots lost his team the last two holes. In the afternoon the Englishmen had a medal of 87 against the Americans' 58.

The youthful team of Sweetser and Jones started running away from Torrance and Hooman and were seven up after the morning round. They had a medal of 74 against their opponents' 83. The Americans increased their lead to 9 up on the first two holes of the afternoon round. The Englishmen then steadied and cut down the lead by brilliant work with the irons. The last two holes of the match were halved. Both teams' medal of 88 on the last afternoon.

The closest and longest match of the four was that in which Marsten and Fownes won from Cavan and McKenzie, 2 and 1. Both sides played steadily all the way. The match ended on the seventh green when Fownes laid a perfect stymie and the Englishman could do no better than halve the hole. Neither team had a lead of more than two holes at any time. The Americans had a lucky break on the fifteenth, when Fownes' approach shot caromed off the side of a deep gully and rolled to the green. This frank prevented the Englishmen from squaring the match.

"Tut" Jackson Figured to Drop in Four

Wills Expected to Stop Brunette Battier Well Inside of Fifteen.

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—"Four rounds, no more," the wise boys are predicting for "Tut" Jackson, the huge negro battler, tonight. Tut is hooked for fifteen rounds with Harry Wills of Brooklyn.

It is one of the bouts arranged to show Wills is entitled to a fight with Jack Dempsey. Jackson is expected to be exhibited C or D in the evidence that Wills is gathering to force Dempsey into the ring.

Jackson has never been knocked out by Wills, and he is considered the best of the exhibits. Billy McCanney, who handles Jackson, says his boy will surely knock Wills out if he hits him. Jackson comes east from Ohio with a good record. He has never been on the floor and he has knocked out a flock of heavies, including Sam Langford, the old veteran. He is a big fellow with a reach of four inches on Wills and he will weigh within ten pounds of Dempsey's challenger. Physically he is a good match for Wills. Yet Jackson, however, hasn't had the experience, and he never has had to take it like he will tonight. If he isn't bleached from fright when he enters the ring he may go four or five rounds, if he is lucky enough to go in and swap punches Jackson may pull a surprise. To pile up a record of 49 knockouts he has to have a punch and it never has been shown that Wills can take a good wallop.

Duffy Wants To Put Cline In Dreamland

Joe Azevedo Put John Cline to Sleep Not So Long Ago.

Harold Aigerson Broom, secretary for Tommy Simpson, the little local promoter, this morning announced that everything is settling pretty for the big "Baragun" program to be staged tomorrow night at the Oakland Auditorium. Every boxer listed on the card reported this morning to be in shape and ready to go, so there is joy down around West Oakland, for Tommy Simpson does not have to order Broom out to scout up a boxer or two to fill in if somebody who took a run out.

Jimmy Duffy, the local lightweight, who is billed for the main event with Gene Cline, has been working out with Jack Reeves, Billy Gibbs and Joe Azevedo, and believes that he is going to score his fourth straight win over Mr. Cline. However, Duffy is not looking for any easy time, as Gene Cline, always made him box at his best. It is Duffy's ambition to put Cline to sleep tomorrow night, and he has been in the art of delivering a sleep-puncher.

Jack Reeves and Billy Gibbs both gave Duffy plenty of workout, as they are both anxious to get on the local scene again. The chances are that Reeves will be in action here next week. Gibbs has a bout lined up at San Francisco, and he is coming a bit alright. At one time he will also get another chance here, as he has shown a good deal of gymnasium work, and after some time he will be a star. Tommy Simpson until 8:15 is given a match.

Joe Azevedo is feeling in the pink of condition at Vallejo, was the last time he will put on the boxing gloves until tomorrow night when he will tangle with Johnny Cline. It is Cline's ambition to beat Azevedo, for the reason that Joe put away the last time, and he is a bout down in the valley. Frankie Reyes is managing Azevedo and he like Broom and others claims that Azevedo looks fit to hold his own against the boys of his weight around here.

Harry Pelsinger and Joe (King) Leopold will renew their feud in one of the special events. The boys have met twice before, with Pelsinger winning a close decision each time.

ing lucky to get the decision. Pat Walsh is a tough gentleman and will run into one of his own class in "Sailor" Ritter. Billy Wallace will exchange wallop with Kris Nelson, and Pete Wood and Al Crisp promise to put on a good treat in the curtain raiser.

Nicholas Is Winner On Des Moines Turf
DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 29.—Nicholas, owned and driven by Harry Clark, of Memphis, Tenn., won the 2:15 pace, the feature event of the day, by a margin of one length yesterday afternoon in straight heats.

Harry Charman, owned and driven by William Taylor of Sedalia, Mo., won the 2:12 trot, while Liberty, owned by C. V. Morgan of Omaha, Neb., won the 2:11 pace. Chapman won his race in straight heats. It took four heats for Liberty to win his race.

Dog Runs Off With Ball in Tournament
OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 29.—A stray dog yesterday puzzled officials in charge of the state golf tournament which opened this morning, when the mongrel grabbed a ball driven by R. F. S. S. S. Fills Out Hollow Cheeks, Thin Limbs!
Men and women—whether you will build yourself up to your normal, just-right weight depends on the number of blood-cells in your blood. That's all there is to it. It's a scientific fact. If your blood-cell factory isn't working right, you will be run-down, thin, and ready to drop. S. S. S. keeps your blood-cell factory full time. It helps build new blood-cells. That's why S. S. S. builds up thin, run-down people. S. S. S. builds up hollow cheeks, thin limbs, the whole body. It puts the "pink" in your cheeks. It takes the hollows from the eyes, and it took Father Time by smoothing out wrinkles in men and women by "plumping" them. S. S. S. is a remarkable blood-purifier. While you are getting plump, your skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, acne, freckles, rash, (etter, blotches are being removed. The medicinal ingredients of S. S. S. are S. S. At the Wrong Wicket

It should be stated that the public library and the Grand Central Station are situated on the same street in New York within a couple of blocks of each other. Moreover, both are large, impressive structures with porticoed fronts and massive pillars—all of which helps to explain this story.

Attached to a vaudeville theatre is a person known as the professor, who rarely wanders off Broadway and who has never been seen when he is entirely sober.

A theatrical man who knows this personage was hurrying up Fifth Avenue toward Forty-second street one evening when he saw two uniformed porters dragging the professor down the wide front steps of the library.

The professor had lost his hat and was protesting and struggling.

"Hold on men!" said the theatrical man. "Don't be rough with the old chap—he's a friend of mine."

"Boss," said one of the porters fervently, "if he's a friend of yours for heaven's sake take him away! This is the third time we've put him out; and each time he comes right back in and hammers on the wicket in front of the information desk and wants a ticket to Yonkers."

Famous Wives History

WHERE A MAN "HIDES OUT" TO BE DEATEN IN HONOR OF THE DEAD.

There are men in Korea, which lies west of Japan, across the Yellow sea, and is bounded on the north by China and Siberia, who do nothing but go about the country permitting themselves to be beaten in honor of the dead. The blows are wielded by the members of the families who have suffered the loss of a relative. For this unusual work they are awarded the "degree" of "Master of Mourning."

Doesn't sound very fascinating, does it? And yet so much importance is attached to showing proper respect for departed members of the family that in Korea that the family pays large sums of money for the services of one of these masters. He sees that all of the rules in the "Guide to Mourning," a book published by the government, which he has studied when learning his trade, are carried out. He says with one family about a year, which is the usual length of time of mourning. Many are the tasks which confront the master during this time, for he has complete charge of the ceremonies.

First, he must see that the Korean is placed in a receptacle of thick wood and in a room properly decorated and prepared. The next thing to which he directs his attention is the proper costumes for the family and relatives. The mourning weeds consist of a gray frock, as torn and patched as possible, and a giraffe of twisted straw and silk made into a rope about the thickness of the wrist. Another cord, the thickness of the thumb, is placed around the head, which is covered with dirty linen. Special sandals and a big knobby stick complete the costumes of those who would mourn according to Korean rule.

Then, the master is ready to make the great sacrifice for which he has been trained—to permit the relatives to beat him. Every morning upon arising, and before each meal, he leads them to the mourning room, where he is beaten until prostrate. Here he utters piteous groans, the "A-I-Ko" which the one who is mourned is a parent and "Oh, Oh" for other relatives.

Sometimes, if a Korean is very wealthy, a house is built in front of the tomb, where the family

No one in the world ever had under his brilliant editorship the circulation became enormous. He was so pleased, flattered and excited that he ran off to Paris to escape more excitement.

A friend met him on the Rue de la Paix. Thackeray rushed up to him and cried:

"London is not big enough to contain me now, and I am obliged to add Paris to my residence. Great heavens! Where will this tremendous circulation stop! Who knows but I will have to add Vienna and Rome to my whereabouts? If the worst comes to the worst, New York may fall into my clutches, and only the Rocky Mountains may be able to stop my progress."

Returning to London, many dinners were given in honor of Thackeray's success. One evening is described by Fields. It was nearly 2 o'clock in the morning when Fields and Thackeray left to go home. They stood by Thackeray's carriage. His coachman asked where he should drive.

Thackeray put on one of his most ludicrous expressions, and gravely said to John, the coachman:

"I think we will make a morning call on the Lord Bishop of London."

John, of course, knowing his master's style, chuckled down a laugh, and asked Mr. Fields' address.

They drove Fields home, and when they reached the house Thackeray insisted upon seeing Fields safely in the door, because, he said:

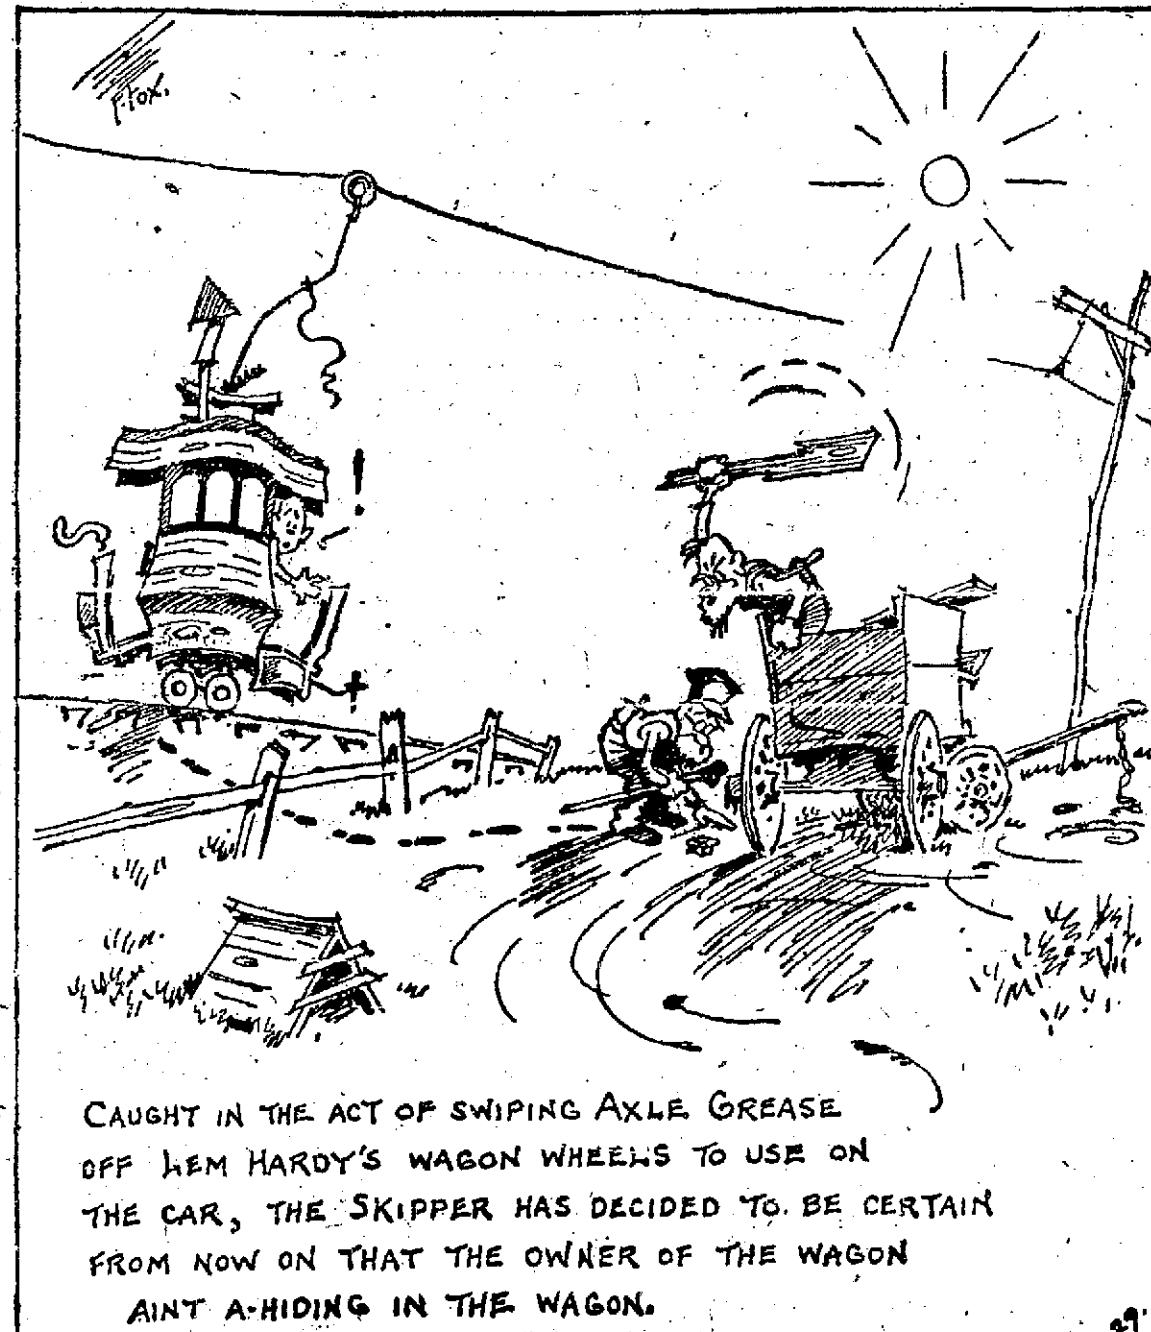

"It would be shameful for a full-blooded Britisher to leave an unprotected Yankee friend exposed to ruffians who prowl about the streets with an eye to plunder."

After giving Fields what he calls a "gigantic embrace," Thackeray squared off and sang a verse of a funny song, breaking the stiffness of the early morning. Then he made a sweeping bow, and with another good-night, jumped into his carriage.

This was the great author as he was—full of boyish fun and with the power to make everybody love him.

Uncle Wiggily Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE WITCH HAZEL

NURSE JANE FUZZY WUZZY softly tiptoed to the porch of the hollow stump bungalow and looked around the corner of a post.

"There he sits yet," murmured the muskrat lady housekeeper. "I wonder what in the world can be the matter with him?"

It was of Uncle Wiggily she was speaking, and the reason, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy was anxious because the bunny rabbit gentleman had been sitting on the porch all day, and it was now about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Well, I'll wait a little longer," said Nurse Jane to herself, as she wiped a dab of flour off her nose, for she had been making a bread pie with carrot marmalade for trimmings.

For about the tenth time Nurse Jane tiptoed to the porch and looked. Uncle Wiggily was still in the easy chair.

"What is the matter?" asked the muskrat lady at last. "How are you, anyhow?"

"Oh, much better now, thank you," answered Mr. Longears, though, to speak the truth, Nurse Jane hadn't known anything was the trouble.

"Yes, I'm a great deal better," said the bunny, for he did not want Nurse Jane to worry about him. "I think I'll take a walk and look for an adventure and—oh, dear! Ough! No, I guess I won't!" and Uncle Wiggily clasped his left hind leg in his two front paws.

"Come, Uncle Wiggily! This will never do! You mustn't feel so badly!" spoke Nurse Jane. "Cheer up, as the robin sings. See how the sun is brightly shining, and listen to the sweet singing of the birds. Think of all the children in the city who never get a chance to see the beautiful woods, except when some kind persons take them out to a fresh air farm! You should be thankful that you spend all your days here!"

Thus Nurse Jane tried to cheer the rabbit gentleman and make him forget his rheumatism, for she knew it was his rheumatism that was paining him, and causing him to cry "Ouch!"

"That's right, Nurse Jane. I should be happier," agreed the rabbit uncle. "It reminds me of a little song. It goes like this: 'Sing when you scrub your toes, or step upon a thistle. And if your throat is very sore, Bo you can't sing—then whistle!'"

"Fie!" cried Nurse Jane. "That's the way to talk! You feel better already, I'm sure. Now I'll make you some carrot salad, and tonight you'll sleep well, to awaken in the morning all cured!"

"I hope so," said the bunny. "And while you are making the salad I'll hop around and see if I can find an adventure. Uncle Wiggily wandered down a path through the woods, not far from his hollow stump bungalow. He was just wondering whether Mother Goose used any special blueing water to make the sky such a beautiful color, when, all of a sudden, the bunny heard a sad voice crying:

"Ouch! Oh, dear! Oh, how they hurt! Oh, what a pain!"

"Goodness, I hope that isn't any one having teeth pulled!" thought Mr. Longears. "It almost sounds as though some one had rheumatism, as I had. Oh, perhaps it's the fuzzy fox making believe to be in trouble, so I'll come close and he can catch me! I must be careful!"

Uncle Wiggily looked carefully around and cautiously asked:

"Who are you and what's the matter?"

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily! How glad I am to see you!" said a voice, and from behind a bush came Johnnie Bushytail, the squirrel boy. He was holding his paws over his eyes and, as he scrambled toward Uncle Wiggily, the squirrel boy bumped into tree after tree.

"What's the matter, Billie? Can't you see where you're going?" asked the rabbit uncle.

"No!" sadly answered the squirrel. "I was bringing home from the store a bottle of ammonia for my mother to put in the water when she washes the clothes. But I stumbled and fell, the bottle broke and a lot of the ammonia got in my eyes! Oh, how it smart!"

"Never mind!" said Uncle Wiggily, kindly. "I'll soon stop your pain, Billie, my boy. I'll find some witch hazel and bind some of the leaves on your eyes."

Uncle Wiggily looked around and found a witch hazel bush. On it were green nuts which would soon be brown and ripe. But now Uncle Wiggily had no use for the nuts. The bunny pulled off some of the leaves, put them in his handkerchief and then pounded them between two stones to make the witch hazel juice run out. This gentle healing juice the bunny squeezed into Billie's eyes and bound on some of the bruised leaves.

"Oh, all the pain is gone!" soon chattered Billie. "My eyes are much better now. Thank you! I'm so glad!"

"So am I glad!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. And just then the Woozie Wolf jumped out of the bushes and was going to bite Uncle Wiggily's ears. But the bunny gentleman took the broken bottle Billie had brought from the store. In the bottom of the bottle remained a little of the strong ammonia.

"There! Try that in your eyes!" cried the bunny as he threw the ammonia in the face of the Wolf.

"Oh, wow! I can't hardly see to nibble ears!" howled the bad chap, and away he ran. Then Uncle Wiggily took Billie home, after getting a new bottle of ammonia and the bunny said he had a fine adventure.

So if the shoe brush doesn't go out walking by itself and forget to take the stove polish to the moving pictures, I'll tell you tomorrow night about Uncle Wiggily and the baby bird.

WHAT IS THE REASON FOR
COL. TRAVER'S REQUEST TO MEET DULIAN?

"Hold the wire, please." I sent the crisp request into the transmit-

"Capt. Hastings is on the wire. Col. Travers. Do you wish to speak to him?"

"What does he want?" The words came from lips that were actually stiff with thwarted anger.

"He wants that you should be so good as come down and identify the body of the man who was shot down," said the sergeant, unconsciously for a minute and identified Smith as his assailant.

"Capt. Hastings thinks Crowley has a good deal more to tell, but he is uncomfortable again."

"Thank you. His tone was the mechanical one of a man so trained to perfunctory courtesy, that he never forgets it, even when—as was apparent now—he is not known to the man he is addressing."

"I will move the car a shade or two," moved my side, took the fasciver from my hands and began to speak, crisp, staccato commands.

"HE MUST NOT GET FAR!"

you can get hold of by telephone or telegraph, send description of Smith, have police in every section watch every road leading out of these mountains, nab him on sight. What's that? Yes, curse him, he's got away—temporarily!—then here had him well tied up in woods, but he got untied in some miraculous

"I've got three men searching for him now, but it's like a needle in a haystack in these woods, and he's got people so afraid of him all through this section that they have hidden his help getting away. But he may not get far, MUST NOT! I depend on your prompt work."

"Make arrangements to have someone constantly by Crowley's bedside to get anything he says when he wakes, and you get out on time," she said, and then Haskins and Hasbrouck up here as soon as they can get here. Kronish's will be headquarters for the present. Good-by."

He snapped the receiver into its place, stood with bowed head for a moment, and then, as the campaign in his mind, then turned to Dicky.

"What about your head, Graham?"

"It can wait," Dicky said shortly. "It was only a glancing blow anyway. It looks messy, for it happened on the skin, but it doesn't need any attention until I get home."

"That's all right then." The other looked visibly relieved. "Mrs. Graham, if I may have a word with you, I do not believe we will need to take up the time of your party."

MADGE ASKS A FAVOR.

He strode over to me, stood so that his broad shoulders intervened between me and the others. I noticed that the people in the room, including Dick, walked away, for there was that in the officer's manner which was unmistakable.

"What is the earliest moment tomorrow morning that I can see the friend who lent you that badge?" she asked abruptly.

"I'll be home in a minute and lifted my troubled eyes to his.

"She would not be permitted to see you at all," I said, "for she is convalescing from a serious nervous breakdown, and we have kept all disturbing things away from her."

"I think you are not possibly so un- active work—"

"I can assure you that nothing will be asked her save advice and some information that I suspect she possesses, and I don't. The whole thing will not take more than a few minutes, and I assure you that your friend, herself, would bid you tell me to see her, did she know the

"She rises at 7:30," I returned. "I will give her your message directly after that. I can telephone you her answer within ten minutes of that time."

He smiled a bit quizzically. "So sure am I of her answer," he said, "that I shall be in front of your door at 8:30. She will have

"Yes, Cosgrove's. Thank you so much. And now we will not need to detain you any longer. I would like to have that young chap, Ted Cosgrove. He's a live wire."

"I will try to find him with my father or his father," said sedately. "I wish to ask you a favor, however, Col. Travers. I assured this man, Kronish, that if he told the truth no harm would come to him. He has grossly exceeded my authority, but I cannot tell how
